NAVY, COAST GUARD SHIPS CHECK SOS

Ontario, Cayuga Hear Distress Signal At Sea

The cruiser Ontario and ships of the Pacific coast destroyer division of the Royal Canadian Navy today are aiding in investigations of an S.O.S. picked up at sea late Tuesday.

The first signal was heard by the cruises, which is en route to Esquimalt after taking part in exercises off the Hawaiian Islands.

No position was fixed until a second signal was heard later by the destroyer Cayuga. Along with the destroyers Sioux and Athabaskan, Cayuga left Esquimalt Monday to meet Ontario, which was to carry out a mock attack as a "raider."

SEARCHED AREA

The U.S. Coast Guard cutter Wachusett sped to the scene from Seattle and searched the area for an hour with negative results. A plane from the Whidbey Island U.S. naval air base also investigated, but found no trace of a disabled ship or plane.

Officials at Seattle say there was no indication whether the distress signal was from an air or surface craft.

U.S. planes were scheduled to take off this morning to conduct a search of the area off the coast near the Canadian-U.S. border.

More Of City's Normal Life Being Abandoned

WINNIPEG (BUP)—The creeping paralysis of miles of flood water ringing this city was taking an increasingly deadly toll today.

With an estimated 10 square miles already inundated and another third of the city protected by soggy dikes, overnight rainfall had added new danger.

"Drizzle keeps the dikes in a soggy condition which weakens the entire structure," said deputy flood controller Brigadier O. M. M. Kay today.

The Weather Office said today less than a quarter of an inch had fallen during the night and no heavy rain was in the immediate future. Authorities warned, however, that constant 24-hour watch was needed to keep the 20 miles of hastily-erected dikework intact.

The damage being done today was sneaky fifth-column work which could turn suddenly into catastrophe, flood control headquarters warned.

FIND SOFT SPOTS

Although the dikes apparently were holding, soft spots were continually being found and the army warned the 50,000 volunteer dikeworkers not to let up their efforts for a minute.

"This pressure will last many days," said City Engineer W. D. Hurst.

"We hear that nearly half an inch of rain fell in the Red River's water shed far to the south during the night and this will help maintain the pressure of the flood crest here," he added.

He said the engineers weren't expecting any more rises apart from the normal fluctuation of the crest, but said the situation was no less dangerous because of this.

More and more of the city's normal life was disappearing under flood water.

The University of Manitoba was flooded and the graduating class received its diplomas in absentia.

With some cemeteries flooded burials were difficult in some areas.

Thousands of essential workers still in Winnipeg were forced to live with complete strangers, sometimes with unhappy results.

Thousands more were forced to detour miles to get to work because of flooded bridges. Scores of businesses had given up the ghost.

TEMPERS FRAYED

"It's this long haul that's tough," said one pudgy businessman - turned - dikeworker. "There was excitement in the first few days, but tempers aren't quite as good as they used to be, with this prolonged pressure."

The city was not lacking for help. As contributions poured in, city hall announced today that Toronto's Mayor Hirum McCallum was flying to the city to survey flood damage. Upon his return to Toronto he would head the giant flood relief appeal in that city.

Destruction lay all through the Red River Valley to the south, with crop losses estimated to run as high as $20,000,000 by one provincial official.

Authorities frankly admitted they were unable to estimate total loss to date, because water covered the hundreds of square miles of area devastated.

And the worst was not over as long as the flood crest remained high.

Gains Made In Moscow Talks, Says Lie

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Trygve Lie told newspaper men in Moscow today he had "no reason to be dissatisfied" with his talks with Prime Minister Stalin and other high Russian leaders.

The statement Lie made in the Soviet capital was released at U.N. headquarters here.

The Secretary-General said he had exchanged views of a "positive kind" with the Russians on the general international situation, Chinese representation in the United Nations, the "so-called cold war," and international control of atomic energy.

Lie expressed regret he could not give more details, but added the talks must be kept confidential if results are to be obtained.

He said that a final judgment on his "Save-U.N." mission cannot be made until at least two or three months from now or perhaps longer.

New Orders To W. German Reds

FRANKFURT, Germany (UP) High allied sources said today Russia has ordered West German Communists to prepare to go underground.

Moscow was said to have ordered trusted Red leaders to link up with extreme nationalists and neo-Nazis and foment disorders to discredit the occupation powers.

The shift in tactics is expected to follow a current purge of thhe West German Communist Party. Already 50 leaders have been deposed. Even silver-thatched Max Reimann, the boss, may go.

Informants said L. P. Beria, head of the Soviet secret police, gave Walter Ulbright, East German Communist Party chief and Deputy Premier of Eastern Germany, preliminary orders for the overhaul of the western party in Moscow Dec. 22.

Two factors were reported behind the orders from Moscow:

1. The party is shot through with "Titoists" by operating through cells rather than as an open party, the leaders will be better able to curb the spread of "subversion."

2. Other parties in Western Germany are clamoring for the government to outlaw the Communist Party.

Canadian Vets Now In Britain Make Requests

LONDON (CP)—Canadian ex-servicemen living in the United Kingdom intend to press the Canadian government to give them the same treatment it intends giving British and Allied veterans now living in Canada.

Maj. J. B. Humphreys, former second-in-command of the Irish Regiment of Canada, a Toronto unit, and now a London business man, is due to arrive in Montreal today to start pressing the case.

Col. Brian Mullaly, National Secretary of the Canadian Veterans' Association of the United Kingdom, making the announcement today said initial approaches would be made through the Canadian Legion. The Canadian organization's annual meeting, which was scheduled to be in session now, has been postponed because of the Winnipeg flood.

He said the organization wants proposed amendments to the Canadian War Veterans' Allowance Act applied to Canadian veterans resident outside the country.

This would mean that veterans outside Canada would be eligible for old age pensions at the age of 60 and would not have to depend for such support exclusively upon schemes in force in the country in residence.

Mexico City Light Strike Settled

MEXICO CITY (AP)—An electric strike was settled Tuesday night after some 5,000,000 Mexicans had gone without light or power for 11 hours.

The 6,000 employees of the Canadian-owned Mexican Light and Power Co. struck at noon Tuesday for 65-per-cent wage increases. They settled for 15-per-cent raises if the company makes enough money this year to pay them.

Police Seeking Armed Robbers In Ont. Woods

BEAVERTON, Ont. (BUP) — Provincial police concentrated their search for two armed robbers in a heavily wooded area on the edge of town today and denied the fugitives were escaped convicts.

Provincial police Constable W. H. Andrews said the description of the two robbers did not coincide with those of Lloyd and Paul Russell, two brothers who escaped May 8.

Andrews admitted he could not identify the pair, but was emphatic that they were not the Russell brothers. "The descriptions we have got from their victim just don't tally," he said.

Canadian and U.S. police had searched the Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., area for the past week for the Russell brothers, both of whom have long criminal records.

When it was reported two gunmen were operating in this area, it was feared that the Russell brothers had evaded the police dragnet in northern Ontario and driven here.

Believe Chiang Will Run If Reds Attack Formosa

HONGKONG (Reuter) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his close accosiates plan to flee abroad when Chinese Communist forces attack their last citadel, the island of Formosa, British and U.S. observers here believed today.

They suggested the Communist attack might come as early as next month now that the Chinese Nationalists have withdrawn 150,000 troops and equipment from the Chusan Islands, 100 miles south of Shanghai.

(This was contrary to a broadcast speech by Chiang Tuesday from Taipai, Formosa, in which he pledged to die defending the last Nationalist stronghold. "Now we've retreated to Formosa," Chiang said. "I cannot retreat any more even if I wanted to . . . there is now nothing left but honorable death for country or return to the mainland.

("We can only avoid death if we defeat the enemy and return to the mainland. If Formosa falls we will all fight to the finish and die here.")

Dependents of Nationalist officials in Formosa are preparing to evacuate to Japan, according to unconfirmed Chinese reports from Taipai.

These preparations coincided with a wave of uneasiness reported sweeping through Nationalist ranks since the Chusan withdrawal.

New Communist airfields have been opened up on the Chinese mainland and could give air cover for the invasion of Formosa.

Big Insurance Firms Sued In Libel Action

CHICAGO (UP)—A $4,300,000 libel and slander suit was on file today against four big insurance firms.

The suit was filed by three executives of the Reliance Insurance Agency, Terry Bannon, Frank Donley and John Sullivan, against the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.; Prudential Insurance Co.; Sun Life Insurance Co. of America, and Western and Southern Life Insurance Co.

The plaintiffs charged that the defendants conspired against them in their efforts to offer low cost, simplified life insurance on a guaranteed renewable for life basis. They said that through their agents, the four firms accused the plaintiffs of being "unethical."

The suit said that Donley recently was cleared of charges by the Sun Life Insurance Co. that he was guilty of misrepresentation.

Death Of Bishop Falsely Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approximately 1,000 church workers bowed in deeply expressed grief for a time Tuesday night after being told—erroneously—of the death of Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam.

The incident was apparently the work of a morbid practical joker.

Montreal Prelate Enthroned Today

MONTREAL (CP)—Most Rev. Paul Emile Leger, new Roman Catholic Archbishop of Montreal, today was enthroned in St. James' Cathedral here in an elaborate ceremony followed by pontifical Mass.

The enthronement ceremony constituted official and solemn recognition of his accession to the episcopal throne vacated by Archbishop Joseph Charbonneau, who resigned three months ago.

Archbishop Leger, who arrived here Monday from Rome, where he was consecrated, presented his credentials to Roman Catholic Church authorities Tuesday.

He expressed sympathy for the victims of fires in the Quebec towns of Rimouski and Cabano and the floods in Winnipeg.

"I was very concerned about the Rimouski fire and the shock it brought to Archbishop Georges Courchesne who despite his age has taken this trial with great courage," he said.

The archbishop said the Winnipeg floods showed "how small man in when facing the elements."

Urge U.S. Aid Flood Relief For Manitoba

WASHINGTON (CP)—A resolution calling on President Truman to extend immediate aid to flood-harried Manitoba was introduced in the Senate Tuesday by Republican Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska.

But Democratic Leader Scott Lucas of Illinois objected to immediate consideration of the resolution on the grounds it was not the proper way to proceed. Lucas said Canada is in no financial distress.

The resolution is likely to be discussed again.

It calls on the President to direct government agencies "to make available immediately the fullest aid consistent with law" to aid Manitoba and especially the city of Winnipeg.

The resolution said the physical, financial and moral support of the U.S. should be extended to the Canadian people in their hour of need.

Heads Underwriters

MONTEBELLO, Que. (CP)—G. C. Cumming, Winnipeg, general manager of the Monarch Life Assurance Company, was elected president of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association here today at the association's annual meeting. He succeeds H. L. Guy, Waterloo, Ont.

Progress Reported In Commonwealth Talks

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuter) —The Commonwealth conference today announced "considerable progress" in talks on the plan for economic aid to check the spread of Communism in south and southeast Asia.

An official communique issued at the end of today's session disclosed progress on proposals for technical assistance and economic development and for the further activities of the Commonwealth consultative committee.

This committee—the body now meeting here—was set up earlier in the year after the Colombo conference of Commonwealth Foreign Ministers had adopted the idea of the aid plan.

Tomorrow, experts will discuss the points of agreement reached today by the committee, and the committee will probably resume its meeting Friday.

Earlier, authoritative sources said the conference was near agreement on the Australian proposal that a Commonwealth fund of $8,000,000 ($24,800,000) be set up to provide immediate technical aid for Asiatic countries.

DEFENCE NEEDS DISCUSSED

U.S. Asks Atlantic Allies Speed Forming International Army

By GLENN WILLIAMS

LONDON (AP)—The United States is pressing its 11 North Atlantic allies to rush formation of an international army against the threat of Russian aggression.

The decision whether to do so probably will be made today by the foreign ministers of the Atlantic Pact countries, meeting in secret deliberations here for the third and perhaps final day.

Diplomatic informants emphasized, however, that military might is not the only aspect of the defence question.

Bigger and more efficient industrial production particularly is needed to underpin the costly defence effort, in the view of American diplomats. The United States is reported to be urging Europe to show more speed, determination and confidence in its economic efforts.

The international army idea has developed from a view, held on an increasingly wide scale, that a group of national armies added to each other do not make a unified or efficient defence force.

When a comparatively weak country attempts to provide itself with all the components of modern war—fighters, bombers, armor, infantry and sea power—its defences are spread so thin that no branch is effective.

By contrast, the U.S. idea is to set up a super-command under the Atlantic Pact to weld together the armed forces of the 12 members while at the same time looking out for their economic strength and possibly for closer political ties.

Flood Evacuees Marry Despite Uncertain Future

With blithe disregard for uncertain future facing them as result of disastrous Red River flood, Dorge Camille and Deloraine Martel, 20-year-old evacuees from inundated St. Norbert, Man., walk proudly between Red Cross guard of honor after marriage in chapel of St. Boniface basilica. Engaged before flood drove them from their homes in Manitoba village, couple feared separation resulting from Dorge having to work on dikes and Deloraine being further evacuated.

RED LIKELY TO CONTINUE SLOW DROP IN FLOOD

Officials Denounce 'False Optimism'; Dikes Not Yet Safe

WINNIPEG (CP) — The flooding Red River rolled on through Greater Winnipeg today with a deceptive quiet. But it held almost steady.

To this city of throbbing pumps the river's breather brought confimation that the crest had leveled off and probably now the stream would begin a gradual drop from heights untouched in more than a century. Coupled with the hopefulness, however, was wariness.

Twenty-seven days after the Red here first touched flood level—an official reading of 18 feet — Winnipeggers faced this situation:

1. The river level at 7 a.m. C.D.T. was 30.2 feet. This was the same as at 5 p.m. Tuesday when the first change in 43 hours —a rise of one-tenth foot—had been recorded.

2. There was a possibility of a one-inch drop in the level sometime today.

3. The weather forecast generally was favorable—cloudy with only scattered showers. What hard-hit Greater Winnipeg feared was a heavy rain throughout the valley, and this was not an immediate prospect.

4. Rain Tuesday night apparently had no effect on the surging flood. It measured only one-tenth inch and lasted only a few hours.

By mid-morning today the sun was shining intermittently on Winnipeg. The sky was full of puffy white clouds.

5. Officials, decrying what they termed "false optimism in the flood zone," reiterated warnings that great dikes protecting areas yet unflooded might go at any time. They called for intensified patrol work to guard against a break.

6. The pace of voluntary evacuation slowed. An estimated 85,000 or 90,000 persons had fled flood-stricken Winnipeg and across-the-river St. Boniface. Even as flood-control headquarters urged more to leave, the generally-favorable outlook brought a slower exodus Tuesday.

D. M. Stephens, Manitoba Deputy Minister of Resources, forecast Monday that the Red's flood crest would be through Winnipeg Tuesday and that a gradual drop could be expected today unless conditions grew worse.

Even before that downward trend became apparent, Premier Douglas L. Campbell had advanced a plan to tame the river and halt floods which have plagued the valley in almost every generation since the first settlers came.

He said engineers had proposed construction of a huge spillway around the Greater Winnipeg area to prevent risk of serious inundations in the built-up area.

Tuesday night the quiet, terrible power of the stream and the drizzling rain were the main offiical worry. The weather cut at the base of dikes built at huge cost since the Reds reached flood stage April 20 to guard dry areas of the 75 to 80 square miles of flat prairie land that is Greater Winnipeg.

More than six square miles of residential and industrial property, said the army, is under water. Flood authorities said more could be flooded.

ATLANTIC COUNCIL SETS UP PERMANENT DEFENCE

LONDON (AP)—The Atlantic Council agreed tonight to set up a permanent defence organization to meet continuously to supervise the defences of the West.

An official communique said details of the agreement will be announced tomorrow.

It is understood to include the supreme defence chiefs of the western countries working at the head of a permanent defence committee.

The communique also said the ministers had reached complete agreement on a directive to be sent to defence and finance committees.

An earlier dispatch said the United States was pressing its 11 North Atlantic allies to rush formation of an international army against the threat of Russian aggression.

When a comparatively weak country attempts to provide itself with all the components of modern war—fighters, bombers, armor, infantry and sea power—its defences are spread so thin that no branch is effective.

OTTAWA SEEKS WAY TO AVERT FLOODS

Appoints Commission To Probe Disaster In Manitoba, Determine Relief Amount Needed

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent announced today the appointment of a fact-finding commission to inquire into the disastrous Manitoba floods and disclosed that a federal financial grant will be extended to the stricken area.

Making the announcement in the Commons, he said the commission will determine "all of the essential facts necessary to determine the amount of the grant which the federal government should make to the government of Manitoba in order to assist that government in discharging its responsibilities . . ."

"In the Fraser Valley floods of 1948, the Dominion extended an outright grant of $5,000,000 to the British Columbia government and paid 75 per cent of the cost of remedial and rehibilitation works.

The Manitoba Commission will look into the nature and extent of the flood damage and the cost of fighting the flood itself, of providing emergency relief and of emergency precautions to guard against a recurrence of flooding.

At the same time, Defence Minister Claxton announced that the Canadian and American governments have been issued a hurry-up order to the Internation Joint Commission in its two-year study of the Red River valley.

The fact-finding commission, to consist of D. Bruce Shaw of Winnipeg, provincial representative, and J. B. Carswell of Vancouver, federal representative, was appointed by agreement between the federal and provincial governments.

It was appointed by agreement between the federal government and the provincial government in Manitoba.

It will have this task:

"To enquire into the nature and extent of the damage caused by the 1950 flood in the Red River valley of Manitoba, the cost of fighting the flood, and the providing of emergency relief required because of the flood, and of emergency precautions to guard against the recurrence of such flood conditions, order to make available at the earliest possible date a complete statement of all of the essential facts necessary to determine the amount of the grant which the federal government should make to the government of Manitoba in order to assist that government in discharging its responsibilities in respect of the said flood."

The commission members will be D. Bruce Shaw, one of Winnipeg's leading investment bankers who will represent the provincial government, and J. B. Carswell of Vancouver, engineer who will represent the federal government.

Village Protest Against Move Rejected By Ottawa

Plans to imprison Doukhobor terrorists at Comox have been made by the federal government, Comox village commission chairman Jack Noel said today.

Mr. Noel said he was informed yesterday by Defence Minister Claxton that Sons of Freedom sentenced for nude parading and arson in the Kootenay and boundary districts will be jailed in naval barracks and R.C.A.F. huts.

Fifty-two Doukhobors, many of them women, were sentenced yesterday at Grand Forks and Nelson to three years in prison for nudism. Other are due to stand trial on arson charges.

Mr. Noel said government officials had overridden local protests in making the move. Organizations are sending protests to Ottawa.

Another home—the 32nd to be burned since mid-April—was destroyed yesterday at Krestova, Slocan valley headquarters of the Sons of Freedom.

Ontario Back After Aiding In SOS Check

Hawaiian Trip Ends As Search Made Off Coast

The cruiser Ontario was scheduled to dock at H.M.C.S. Naden at 4 this afternoon after aiding in investigations of an SOS she heard Tuesday.

The ship, commanded by Capt. H. F. Pullen, has been exercising off the Hawaiian Islands with a U.S. task force.

Around noon Tuesday, Ontario picked up a distress signal, but no position was established until the destroyer Cayuga heard a second signal nearly five hours later. The signal appeared to originate about 150 miles southwest of Cape Flattery.

The cruiser, the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Wachusett and the Canadian destroyers Athabaskan, Sioux and Cayuga searched the area without results. An aircraft from the Whidbey Island U.S. naval air base also searched the scene.

MOCK ATTACK

The destroyers were sent out Monday to "defend" the Strait of Juan de Fuca from Ontario, which was simulating a mock attack as a "raider."

The Canadian ships kept a sharp lookout today for any signs of a ship or a plane which might have sent out the SOS, but did not engage in a special search.

A U.S. plane searched the area early today. The coast guard said the SOS was heard over a frequency generally used by aircraft.

Howe Conferring With British On Wheat Contract

LONDON (CP)—Trade Minister C. D. Howe of Canada arrived here today by air for Anglo-Canadian wheat talks. He was accompanied by George McIvor, chairman of the Canadian Wheat Board.

It is understood discussion will start tomorrow to decide on British-Canadian wheat transactions following completion of the four-year contract which will end July 31 next.

The arrival of the Canadian party coincided with London press reports that the British housewife's chances for a more palatable loaf may hinge on decisions reached between Howe and the British treasury.

The National Association of British and Irish Millers is campaigning for the United Kingdom to take more wheat and less flour. By reducing the extraction rate from 85 to 80 per cent, it is contended, a better loaf would be obtained.

A Canada House spokesman said Canada could supply either and the question was strictly one for the British government to decide.

Britain Seeks Way To Aid In Flood Relief

LONDON (CP)—Britain today expressed to Canada its "deep concern" and sympathy over the flooding of Winnipeg.

Prime Minitser Attlee announced in the House of Commons he has sent the following message to Prime Minister St. Laurent:

"On behalf of my colleagues and myself I should like to convey to you the deep concern with which we have learned of the serious floods in Winnipeg. Please express our heartfelt sympathy with those who have suffered in the catastrophe."

Anthony Eden, deputy Conservative leader, said the Conservative associated themselves with the message.

Eden said all regarded with the deepest concern "this disaster to one of Canada's greatest cities."

"I think we should like to feel we can do something more in a practical way—if only of a token kind.

"Some of us can remember the generous messages of help and encouragement we had from the Canadian Parliament once or twice during the war when things were not going very well for us."

Attlee said any assistance Britain could give would certainly be given.

BOSS PICKETS PICKET LINE

KENNEWICK, Wash. (AP) —Publisher. Glenn Lee picketed pickets today at the Tri-City Herald, where two A.F.L. mechanical unions have been on strike since March 3.

Carrying a sign saying "I.T.U. and pressmen's union unfair to Tri-City Herald and organized labor." Lee walked side-by-side with a union picket.

Ex-Head Hunters Fight Communists

SINGAPORE (Reuter) — Two plane-loads of Dyak trackers, once renowned as head-hunters, have arrived in Kuala Lumpur for six months' work with security forces in the Malayan jungles. The Dyaks, who were reported to have reverted to their original head-hunting habits against the Japanese in Borneo during the war, use eight-foot blow guns with poisoned darts.

Mayor's Fund For Flood Relief Now Over $3,000

Subscriptions to Mayor George's Fund, for Manitoba Flood Relief amounted to more than $3,000 when totaled at noon today.

Started by the mayor last Friday, the drive did not get fully under way until Monday. The rate at which donations have been pouring in since that time has been gratifying to the city's chief magistrate.

"I am indeed thankful for the quick and generous response," said the mayor. "And very appreciative of the co-operation from the newspapers, radio stations, banks and others who are working as one to make the fund a success."

Mayor George said he was sure the fund would continue to grow.

"The people who have been hit by this flood are in dire need," the mayor observed. "We who live on Vancouver Island should count our blessings and do as much as we can to help those in Manitoba."

Contributions to the Mayor's Fund are being received at City Hall, the Victoria Times, the Daily Colonist, radio station CJVI and radio station CKDA.

In the flood centre at Winnipeg, H. W. Manning, general chairman of Manitoba flood relief, has said a minimum of $10,000,000 will be needed to save the more than 85,000 flood victims from the most tragic ruination in Canadian history.

"Ten million dollars is the absolute minimum for the bare essentials for the resumption of home life when the waters subside," he said. "Anything less will mean hundreds of Manitoba families will face a long period —perhaps a lifetime—of misery and squalor.

Major Earthquake Felt Early Today

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A major earthquake occurred this morning 4,800 miles northwest or southwest from Pasadena, California institute of technology seismologists reported.

"There were two major shocks," said Dr. Charles Richter. "The first was at 4.58.19, the second at 5.07.45 a.m. (P.D.T.). This unquestionably was the largest earthquake anywhere in the world since last February."

Dr. Richter said the quake was probably 350 miles below the earth's surface and No. 7 on the scale, classifying it as a major tremblor, which, if occurring in a populous area would be destructive to life and property.

BABY SITTER SHORTAGE HOLDS UP CITY POLICE COURT CASE

Police services to the public are extensive but do not include providing baby sitters.

A woman telephoned the detective office today and told Detective David Donaldson she would be unable to attend court as a witness because she could not get a baby sitter.

She said that if the police could get her a sitter she would attend.

The case in which she was involved did not go ahead.

Club May Ask For Automatic Car Signals

The Victoria Automobile Club is looking into the possibility of pressing the provincial government to recognize certain automatic car turning signals as lawful.

At the present time the club is gathering information on signal laws in effect elsewhere in Canada and in the U.S.

Most places on the continent, like B.C., require operators of passenger motor vehicles to make turning signals with hand and arm. In Ontario, however, certain types of automatic signals are recognized as proper.

Directors of the Victoria Automobile Club have discussed the question considerably. Their attention was brought to the matter by owners of English-made cars. These popular small models are factory-equipped with automatic signalling devices, which many claim are easier to see than some arm signals.

In order to have the automatic devices recognized as proper, a change in B.C.'s Motor Vehicle Act would be required.

Lie To See Westerners After Talk With Stalin

MOSCOW (UP) — U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie announced today he will follow up his "cold war" peace talk with Premier Josef Stalin by conferring with U.S., British and French leaders.

He told a press conference that he will leave Moscow for New York at 3.30 a.m. Friday by way of Paris and London. En route, he said, he hopes to see French Premier Georges Bidault and British Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee or their foreign ministers.

When he returns to the United States, he said, he plans to confer with President Truman and U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Lie talked with leaders of all three countries before he left for Moscow. His objective then, as in his conversations with Soviet leaders, was to find means of easing the cold war and ending the deadlock in the U.N. over Chinese representation.

He personally will discuss the same questions again with the western Big Three leaders on his return journey. But the new meetings will take place in the light of his talks with Stalin, Vice Premier Viacheslaw M. Molotov, Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky, Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and former U.N. Assistant Secretary-General Arkady Sobolev.

Lie told 50 Soviet and foreign correspondents gathered in the office of the Moscow U.N. information centre he had had friendly and "positive" exchanges of views with the Soviet leaders.

"I have no reason to be dissatisfied with my conversations in Moscow," he said. "A final judgment, however, cannot be made before two or three months from now. Maybe, it will take a longer period."

He said he had been received "in a most friendly way." Lie spent 90 minutes with Stalin at the Kremlin Monday night.

COOL RECEPTION FOR HOUSING PLAN

Greater Victoria Municipalities Shun Home-Building Proposal

Despite the long-standing cry for housing, B.C. municipalities are slow in responding to the offer of the senior governments to finance blocks of low-cost dwellings.

It is understood none of the Greater Victoria municipalities have approached the provincial housing authority established during the last session of the Legislature with any plan for housing.

In fact only one municipality —North Vancouver—has taken a clear-cut move in the direction of the relief plan in housing accommodation formulated by the provincial and national governments, it was learned.

Vancouver city is reported to be "dickering" with a plan for a housing project under the arrangement provided for in housing legislation passed by the provincial House in March.

FOR BLOCKS OF HOUSES

The plan provides for financing of blocks of houses to be rented or sold, with the federal government paying 75 per cent and the province 25 per cent of costs.

Municipalities must supply the land.

It is understood the city of Victoria hasn't a block of land left for a project, but because of the shortage of accommodation in the area it was expected the city would work with the outside municipalities in a co-operative scheme.

It is felt the difficulties to be encountered in a project involving two or more of the Greater Victoria municipalities could be overcome.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

PATHETIC PLEA

OVER THE LAST few months I have found that getting into the news brings unexpected results in the shape of letters from all parts of the world, most of them bringing congratulations and good wishes in astonishing measure from people who write out of sheer kindness—people whom one has never heard of, let alone met.

And if the receiving of them entails answering—well, that is something one does gladly by way of inadequate thanks for the kindly sentiments most of them convey. But occasionally a letter comes along which doesn't confine itself to expressions of appreciation. Sometimes they are written in obvious anticipation of favors to come!

BAHAMA BUDGET

SO I CHUCKLED when I received, by air mail a few days ago, a letter from Nassau, Bahama Islands, which belongs in the latter class. Here it is, exactly as I received it:

"Nassau, Bahama Islands, B.W.I.,
"May 9, 1950.

"Mrs. Nancy Hodges,
"Victoria, Canada.

"Most Esteemed Lady: I am a young man 30 years old, married, and a father of three children by such marriage. I am unknown to you but have been very, very deeply moved at your outstanding career of which we have read and heard so much in these parts of the world.

"I can understand how untiringly busy you are but I respectfully ask you please to pause for a few moments reading the contents of this letter.

"Most Esteemed Lady, may I have an autographed picture of you? Such would be tenderly placed among my treasured souvenirs. Please do not disappoint me as I am looking forward to such with all my mind.

"Would you be kind enough to also make me a small donation? I do have a job at present but living conditions are terribly high owing to the recent devaluation of the pound sterling. May the Lord reward you in health and long life for whatever you do for me.

"The Bahama Islands are belonging to the British Empire and they lie in the tropics. If at any time you desire to spend a vacation here, I shall with much pleasure send you the tourist guides and all information re hotels, etc. Hundreds of Americans visit here annually.

"May God's richest blessings dwell with you and your family and lengthen your life to continue serving humanity in your various ways.

"With the greatest expectation of your reply, I remain Most Esteemed Lady,
"Yours respectfully . . ."

'AMONG MY SOUVENIRS'

THAT TOUCHING little bit about placing my photograph tenderly among his treasured souvenirs made me smile. But not half so much as his plea to the Lord to reward me in return for what I might do for the writer in terms of a "small donation." However, I am afraid that the reward is going to be just as small!

And the promise to send me all tourist information, should I ever go a-holidaying in the Bahamas, plus the intriguing bit of information about "hundreds of Americans" visiting Nassau annually makes me wonder if the gentleman's "line" is part of the island's publicity propaganda? But whatever his vocation may be, his avocation certainly suggests that he is a strong believer in "free" enterprise—and the freer, the better.

DATE IN SUMMER?

Armistice Day Change Veterans Vote Topic

"Do you favor changing Remembrance Day from Nov. 11 to a day in the warmer summer months?"

That is the question to be voted on by members of the Esquimalt Branch of the Canadian Legion at their meeting tonight in the 622 Admirals Road club quarters at 8.

Old veterans and new so far appear to be satisfied to let the Armistice Day of the First World War stay as the day of remembrance for the men who fell in both wars, but there has been some agitation to have this changed to a warmer month so that it will not be such a hardship on aging veterans of World War I.

Harsh weather is the order in many parts of Canada early in November.

Weightman Heads Accountants

G. E. Weightman will head the affairs of the Victoria Chapter of the Industrial Accountants for the coming year. He was elected chairman of the group at the annual meeting recently.

C. Powell was elected vice-chairman. Other officers named were: J. Eltringham, secretary-treasurer, and G. DeWolfe, W. Dron, J. Emerson, H. Lloyd and H. Powell, directors.

Clifton H. Davis, B.C.'s provincial secretary, congratulated last year's directors for bringing the Fernie Trophy to Victoria. It is presented annually to the chapter showing the largest percentage membership increase. Victoria's membership increase last year was 130 per cent.

POLICE NOT EXCEPTED

A policeman's car is no safer from prowlers than that of the average citizen. This was shown Tuesday when Cpl. Hugh Daubeney, clerk of the B.C. Police "A" Division, reported to city police a slicker had been stolen from his parked car during the last week.

Guides, Scouts Awarded Badges

Wilfred Gibson, scoutmaster, reported to a meeting of North Quadra Parent-Scout group that one scout had passed his king scout and silver arrow tests. Three other boys had passed their first class and silver arrow tests.

Mrs. Henry Piedt, guide mistress, reported several girl guides had passed their first class tests and that five had won child-nurse badges, five homemaker badges and five laundress badges. One guide won her needlewoman's badge.

Larry Tickner, assistant cub master of B pack, reported five cubs invested, five passed tender pad tests and one new cub joined the pack.

Mrs. V. J. Pritchard, brown owl of the brownies, reported that two brownies had been enrolled and two new recruits had applied.

Fred Sharples told the meeting that repairs and renovation of the scout hall were nearly complete except for some plumbing work.

Preview Of Junior Queen Crowning Ceremonies

One hundred nobles and their ladies of recently-formed Victoria Shrine Club gathered at the Monterey to preview coronation ceremonies for junior May Queen. Clarence Johns outlined plans for May 24 celebrations. Left to right, Prince Charming Billie McElmoyle; Junior Queen Nicci Dawn Lucas, Jill Shepard and Patricia Goodspeed, attendants; Graham Graves, crown bearer, and Patsy Elder and Sharon Kirk, pages.

New Group Formed In City Plans To Aid Food Situation In China

Acting on suggestions by Muriel Cordeaux, lecturer and journalist, in recent addresses to service clubs throughout the city, a "Chinese Food Mission" group was organized here Tuesday night

J. E. Cooper was named chairman. He stated it was non-partisan, non-sectarian and non-political.

"We are not out after more money from people's pockets. The main purpose of forming the group here is to get the ball rolling with the establishment of a national organization in view," Mr. Cooper said.

NOT PEACE MOVE

It was not a peace move regarding China, Mr. Cooper continued. The main purpose was to send surplus food to famine-stricken China.

"As long as we let people starve there will be twice as much Communism," he said.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

William Miller was named secretary of the group, while Capt. Wilfred Gibson, Bob Morrison, Jules Menard and Tim Bak Lang, former U.N.R.R.A. worker recently returned from China, were named to an advisory committee.

Miss Cordeaux addressed the group at the organization meeting. She said the task of feeding the millions of starving Chinese fell upon the shoulders of Canada as both the British and U.S. had "lost face" in that country.

The speaker has been a resident of the Far East almost all her life. She returned from a fact-finding mission to the Orient last January.

Bowlers Ask City For Better Deal At Beacon Hill

An appeal to the city for a better deal on its holdings in Beacon Hill Park may be made by Victoria Lawn Bowling Club, Robert A. C. Dewar, former alderman and club executive said Tuesday.

He stated the city was raising the club's maintenance bill from $1,200 to $1,460 this year.

The club built and maintained the greens for nearly 35 years, but about three years ago, when it found difficulty in getting a caretaker, agreed that the city should do the maintenance for an annual fee of $1,200, according to Mr. Dewar. The club pays the cost of insurance and half the water rates, he added.

He felt no other city sports organizations reimbursed the city in this manner except those using Royal Athletic and Macdonald Parks.

Judges Named For Camera Contest

Two out-of-town experts and four Victorians have been picked to judge the Victoria Camera Club's annual salon, which will be held in November.

The black and white section will be judged by Roger Kerkham, Victoria; B. Gray Warner, Seattle, and John Helders, Vancouver. Bette Kerkham, Robert Fort and Norman Yarrow, all of Victoria, will pick winners in the color section.

Entry forms for the salon are available. Help of every club member has been asked by committee chairman Irvine Dawson, so that the salon will be a success.

Next general meeting of the Camera Club will be held at the Alert Service Hall Thursday evening at 8.

Interested in farmsteads? The fourth in a series of bulletins published by the Rural Housing Advisory Committee for B.C. on "Farmstead Planning and Layout" is yours for the asking.

The bulletin is a guide to the most economical methods of planning or rearranging farmsteads of all kinds.

It is available from 0-19 West Mall, University of B.C., Vancouver.

Tabloid Newspaper Printed Aboard Huge Atlantic Ship

Passengers on board the Canadian Pacific's 26,000-ton Atlantic flagship, Empress of Scotland, which completed her first post-war passenger voyage from Liverpool to Quebec Monday, had a daily newspaper, The Empress News, on their trans-Atlantic trip.

A great improvement over the old-fashioned news bulletin, typewritten on flimsy paper and pinned up on the bulletin board, The News is a proper newspaper with the latest wireless news printed aboard the ship.

Containing from four to six or eight pages of tabloid size, the contents of The Empress News are edited so that a proportion of the reading matter can be printed in advance.

LATEST NEWS

All the latest live news of the day, however, is printed on board by the ship's printer, and all matters of world importance, including stock exchange and sports news, are included briefly but with all the essential facts.

The paper is edited on board for each day's issue, with the work done largely in the small hours of the night.

As the setting up in type of the news proceeds, the editor, usually the purser, corrects proofs and makes up the paper just like the editor of any small paper. By dawn The Empress News is "put to bed" and the printer gets it ready to be laid on the passengers' breakfast tables.

60-Year Resident Of Victoria Dies

A resident of the city for 60 years, Mrs. Anne Lillian Stainsby Ditchburn, 431 Linden Avenue, widow of William E. Ditchburn, former Indian agent here, died at St. Joseph's Hospital Monday. She was 74.

Born in Stockton-on-Tees, England, the late Mrs. Ditchburn took up residence at Winnipeg, Manitoba, at an early age. She moved to the city in 1890.

She is survived by her son, Raymond B. Ditchburn and granddaughter, Sylvia at 755 Hampshire Road, and a daughter, Mrs. H. R. Chisholm and granddaughter, Pat, at Winnipeg.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 1.30 in the Memorial Chapel of Chimes at Sands Mortuary. Interment will be at the Ross Bay Cemetery.

VETERANS MEETING

There will be moving pictures and other features at the meeting of Esquimalt Branch of the Canadian Legion tonight at 8 in the 622 Admirals Road clubhouse. Change in meeting date will result in the Ladies' Auxiliary bingo night being held Thursday night.

Court Sets Aside Civic Wage Award

Judge Rules Arbitration Board Acted On Wrong Law Principle

Two hundred and fifty outside employees of the City of Victoria learned today that their 7½-cent-an-hour pay increase awarded by an arbitration board had been set aside in a judgment handed down by Mr. Justice H. S. Wood in Supreme Court Chambers Tuesday.

Application to have the award set aside was made by W. H. M. Haldane, representing the city. The application was opposed by H. K. Bate, representing the Civic Employees' Protective Association, Local 50.

Mr. Justice Wood set aside the award because the arbitration board had acted on a wrong principle of law in arriving at the award.

He gave his judgment after Mr. Haldane assured the court that a six-cent increase was in the city's budget and would be paid, retroactive to Jan. 1, to the employees.

"What has troubled me is the position of these men if the award is set aside," stated the judge. "Apparently everybody admits they should have more money."

The judge said that if it were not for the assurance given by Mr. Haldane that a six-cent pay increase would be granted to the employees, he would be loath to interfere with the award.

The city won its case on a point of law not on the merits of the award.

H. K. Bate, counsel for the union, charged that the city had been guilty of unreasonable delay in launching its application to have the award set aside on a legal technicality.

"The city hasn't dealt in an equitable manner," he said.

Rushing Tax Bills For June Payment

The three municipalities of Greater Victoria are busy with the annual task of getting tax notices to property owners.

Oak Bay hopes to have some 5,300 notices in the mail by tonight. Deadline for payment is June 30.

By the end of the month, Esquimalt will have sent out about 2,000 tax notices.

Saanich has the biggest job with more than 20,000 notices to be issued. Deadline for payment is June 30.

Steps On Banana Skin, Breaks Thigh

A banana skin entered into the accident picture in the city yesterday afternoon. According to city police, Owen McCann, about 60, of 777 Fort Street, suffered a left thigh fracture when he was upset after stepping on the skin. Constables Bonar Hannay and George Buckle rendered first aid before taking McCann to St. Joseph's Hospital.

To Rejoin Ship

Wireless operator George Malandris of the Greek freighter Maria G. Culucundis is back with his ship.

The 44-year-old seaman, rushed to port on April 30 aboard the destroyer Sioux from 300 miles off the west coast when he became seriously ill, was released from hospital at H.M.C.S. Naden Tuesday.

He rejoined his ship in Vancouver.

Malandris at first was thought to be suffering from a ruptured appendix. It turned out to be perforated duedenal ulcer and an operation took place only a few hours after he was brought ashore.

Young D.P.'s Wonder What's Happening

These two young ladies were among the 5,000 persons who left St. Boniface and Norwood last week-end in response to an army request that all women with children evacuate the area. The tots, Hope Baldwin, 3 (left), and her sister, Sandra, 2, were not at all eager to move.—(CP Photo)

Chiang May Flee If Formosa Falls

Nationalist Officials' Dependents Reported Ready To Go To Japan

HONGKONG (Reuter)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his close associates plan to flee abroad when Chinese Communist forces attack their last citadel, the island of Formosa, British and U.S. observers here believed today.

They suggested the Communist attack might come as early as next month now that the Chinese Nationalists have withdrawn 150,000 troops and equipment from the Chusan Islands, 100 miles south of Shanghai.

(This was contrary to a broadcast speech by Chiang Tuesday from Taipai, Formosa, in which he pledged to die defending the last Nationalist stronghold. "Now we've retreated to Formosa," Chiang said, "I cannot retreat any more even if I wanted to . . . there is now nothing left but honorable death for country or return to the mainland.

("We can only avoid death if we defeat the enemy and return to the mainland. If Formosa falls we will all fight to the finish and die here.")

NEW RED AIRFIELDS

These preparations coincided with a wave of uneasiness reported sweeping through Nationalist ranks since the Chusan withdrawal.

New Communist airfields have been opened up on the Chinese mainland and could give air cover for the invasion of Formosa.

Canadian Vets Now In Britain Make Requests

LONDON (CP)—Canadian ex-servicemen living in the United Kingdom intend to press the Canadian government to give them the same treatment it intends giving British and Allied veterans now living in Canada.

Maj. J. B. Humphreys, former second-in-command of the Irish Regiment of Canada, a Toronto unit, and now a London business man, is due to arrive in Montreal today to start pressing the case.

Col. Brian Mullaly, National Secretary of the Canadian Veterans' Association of the United Kingdom, making the announcement today said initial approaches would be made through the Canadian Legion. The Canadian organization's annual meeting, which was scheduled to be in session now, has been postponed because of the Winnipeg flood.

He said the organization wants proposed amendments to the Canadian War Veterans' Allowance Act applied to Canadian veterans resident outside the country.

This would mean that veterans outside Canada would be eligible for old age pensions at the age of 60 and would not have to depend for such support exclusively upon schemes in force in the country in residence.

Mexico City Light Strike Settled

MEXICO CITY (AP)—An electric strike was settled Tuesday night after some 5,000,000 Mexicans had gone without light or power for 11 hours.

The 6,000 employees of the Canadian-owned Mexican Light and Power Co. struck at noon Tuesday for 65-per-cent wage increases. They settled for 15-per-cent raises if the company makes enough money this year to pay them.

CANADIAN SHIPS VISIT BOSTON

BOSTON (CP)—Two Canadian liners arrived here today, taking part in preview maritime ceremonies launching Boston's mid-century jubilee celebration.

The liners Lady Rodney and Lady Nelson were greeted by city and state officials accompanied by Betty Taylor, 21-year-old daughter of a Newfoundland-born Canadian war veteran. Miss Taylor has been chosen as "Miss Boston Jubilee."

Progress Reported In Commonwealth Talks

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuter)—The Commonwealth conference today announced "considerable progress" in talks on the plan for economic aid to check the spread of Communism in south and southeast Asia.

An official communique issued at the end of today's session disclosed progress on proposals for technical assistance and economic development and for the further activities of the Commonwealth consultative committee.

This committee—the body now meeting here—was set up earlier in the year after the Colombo conference of Commonwealth Foreign Ministers had adopted the idea of the aid plan.

Tomorrow, experts will discuss the points of agreement reached today by the committee, and the committee will probably resume its meeting Friday.

Earlier, authoritative sources said the conference was near agreement on the Australian proposal that a Commonwealth fund of $8,000,000 ($24,800,000) be set up to provide immediate technical aid for Asiatic countries.

Police Seeking Armed Robbers In Ont. Woods

BEAVERTON, Ont. (BUP) — Provincial police concentrated their search for two armed robbers in a heavily wooded area on the edge of town today and denied the fugitives were escaped convicts.

Provincial police Constable W. H. Andrews said the description of the two robbers did not coincide with those of Lloyd and Paul Russell, two brothers who escaped May 8.

Andrews admitted he could not identify the pair, but was emphatic that they were not the Russell brothers. "The descriptions we have got from their victim just don't tally," he said.

Canadian and U.S. police had searched the Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., area for the past week for the Russell brothers, both of whom have long criminal records.

When it was reported two gunmen were operating in this area, it was feared that the Russell brothers had evaded the police dragnet in northern Ontario and driven here.

New Orders To W. German Reds

FRANKFURT, Germany (UP) High allied sources said today Russia has ordered West German Communists to prepare to go underground.

Moscow was said to have ordered trusted Red leaders to link up with extreme nationalists and neo-Nazis and foment disorders to discredit the occupation powers.

The shift in tactics is expected to follow a current purge of the West German Communist Party. Already 50 leaders have been deposed. Even silver-thatched Max Reimann, the boss, may go.

Informants said L. P. Beria, head of the Soviet secret police, gave Walter Ulbright, East German Communist Party chief and Deputy Premier of Eastern Germany, preliminary orders for the overhaul of the western party in Moscow Dec. 22.

Two factors were reported behind the orders from Moscow:

1. The party is shot through with "Titoists" by operating through cells rather than as an open party, the leaders will be better able to curb the spread of "subversion."

2. Other parties in Western Germany are clamoring for the government to outlaw the Communist Party.

Death Of Bishop Falsely Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approximately 1,000 church workers bowed in deeply expressed grief for a time Tuesday night after being told—erroneously—of the death of Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam.

The incident was apparently the work of a morbid practical joker.

Bishop Oxnam good-naturedly assured a reporter in New York that he was not dead.

Insurance Broker For School Board

In an effort to cut down paper work and centralize handling of claims, Greater Victoria School Board will employ a broker for its insurance business.

Coming up for renewal shortly are policies from 50 to 60 agencies covering board property, Trustee Richard Reeve said today. He believes the broker will reissue the policies to only six or seven agencies, to simplify the paper work.

Democratic Struggle Bears Fruit

THE VICTORY OF THE DEMOCRAT Party in Sunday's national elections in Turkey, described in news reports as of "landslide" proportions, will result in little change in the foreign policy of that country but should have considerable effects on domestic affairs. The Democrats, under former Premier Celal Bayar, overthrew the Republican People's Party, led by General Ismet Inonu who, as President of the Republic, had been in power since 1938 when he succeeded the late Kemal Ataturk. The new government, according to its platform, will encourage an extension of free enterprise and private business activity, while championing the right of unions to strike. Inonu's policy, modeled on that of Ataturk, had tended more to state capitalism.

The actual differences in party policies, however, are less important than the fact that for the first time the people of Turkey have experienced a free general election. It was not until 1945 that an opposition party was permitted. Sunday's contest was the climax of the first genuine multi-party contest, with extension of the franchise to every man and woman over 21. The westernization of Turkey undertaken by Ataturk has been slow but steady. In industry, education, commerce, foreign relations and domestic politics the changes have been many and deep. The conversion from the ancient feudalism to modern democracy could come only gradually, but the events of last Sunday indicate that the process has been genuine. Much of the credit no doubt can be given to Inonu who, although committed to a brand of state ownership peculiar to his regime, has used state facilities to provide an economic background for private undertakings. The Popular Republicans have rightly claimed that under their direction the country has reached the stage of development where it can have "a system of government conducted by representatives the people themselves have elected." And Inonu himself, despite his long term as head of the nation, declared his readiness to serve as leader of the Opposition if the people so chose. That position he now will occupy.

As one Turkish editor put it, "It is not so important today which party wins the elections. The great question is that the elections should be so conducted that no room is left for complaints and recriminations afterwards." The election returns indicate that the people spoke in a determined voice. The new stirrings of freedom demanded a change—which has duly been carried out in the parliamentary manner. At long last Turkish men and women have exercised their full political powers, they have chosen the fellow citizens they wish to govern them, and that is a right which they will not easily relinquish. They are shoulder to shoulder with the West.

A Little More Effort Needed

LAST WEEK IN VANCOUVER RT. Hon. C. D. Howe offered an antidote to pessimism. He noted the progress made by Canada in this scientific age, and forecast personal and national advance in the future. This week on the mainland, Donald Gordon, president of the Canadian National Railways, delivered a supplementary injunction to the people of this country to keep working in order to ensure further progress.

Mr. Gordon referred to industrial development during the last 10 years which has brought Canada from the ranks of merely primary producers to the status of a manufacturing country of some proportions. As he put it:

"We have gone to the next stage (after primary production). Nor can we ever turn back if we are to maintain—let alone improve—our standard of living."

In other words, Canada, rich as she is, will not float automatically into greater prosperity and well-being. Her people, all of them, must work to that end, and all must be conscious of the part they have to play in progress. That means, in effect, that individual Canadians cannot afford to think in terms of the highest returns possible for the minimum of effort. The latter attitude has not been a prevailing Canadian point of view. Where there has been an inclination to hold back on effort, however, the words of Mr. Gordon will strike home.

The remarks of the C.N.R. president and Mr. Howe should help to remind us of the changing picture on the international economic screen. During the war and for some years after it, Canada has been in the favored position of some of the young people who gained their first employment experience during the manpower scarcity of the war years. A number of those employees could not realize the demands that would be made upon them when a more competitive day dawned. Similarly Canada, with great riches that other parts of the world wanted—and which could not be obtained from competitive sources — commanded markets with little effort. The artificial conditions of those days have changed, probably to other artificial conditions. But the situation today is not one which permits us to sit back and let the customers come to us. In the buyer's market we have to roll up our sleeves, do a day's work and probably a little more, in order to maintain our standard of living. Mr. Gordon has brought that point home forcefully. It is a matter we cannot ignore.

Pounding The Isolationists

HOW FAR PRESIDENT TRUMAN looked beyond his notes toward the coming elections in his speech at Fargo, N.D., last Saturday, will be better understood by close observers of the American political scene than by Canadians. His forthright attack on those of his fellow countrymen who so far qualify their support of major international policies that the policies themselves are jeopardized, will, nevertheless, be roundly applauded beyond the boundaries of the United States.

Mr. Truman rapped the "yes but boys." They are the type, he said, who were formerly isolationists but who have now given up that line. Though they professed belief in international co-operation, they sought to hamstring such matters as the European Recovery Program by challenging the expense of that undertaking. They, the President said, favored international co-operation, but preached a doctrine of shutting off imports from foreign countries. What is said by President Truman in the next few months will, of course, be weighed in the balances at election time. At the same time, if his speeches can furnish assurance to countries other than the United States of the re-establishment of a unified front on the international scene, they will have positive value beyond an appeal to domestic voters.

Many factors have been introduced into the United States picture in recent months that have caused anxiety among her friends. Some of the misgivings have been allayed. Recent developments toward re-establishment of a bi-partisan foreign policy, for instance, have given some measure of comfort. More has been furnished by reports of an inclination to reduce trade barriers. The sensationalized treatment of domestic investigations destructive to the prestige of the country's diplomats, however, still leaves the nations that are counting on the United States for strong international leadership somewhat perplexed and ill at ease.

In consequence, Mr. Truman's attack against those "who always stand in the road of progress" will be heartening to America's friends. If it does nothing else than hammer home another nail in the isolationist coffin, it will have a beneficial result.

Australian Delegate Proposes Plan For S.E. Asia Assistance

By WILLIAM FITTER, from Sydney

AUSTRALIA'S principal delegate at the Commonwealth Conference on South-East Asia which opened in Sydney last Monday is Percy Claude Spender, who last December succeeded Dr. H. V. Evatt as his country's Minister for External Affairs.

At the Colombo Conference of Empire Foreign Ministers last January he outlined broadly a plan for economic and technical assistance to countries in the South-East Pacific area. At Sydney he is being called on to give shape to that outline, to produce a workable "humanitarian" plan which will arrest the Communist tide in South-East Asia by offering backward countries a helping hand from the democracies in a "New Deal" to raise Asiatic living standards.

GOOD DEEDS

A political opponent once described him as "a grown-up Boy Scout." That was meant as a gibe, but it contained the germ of a compliment—Spender always gives one the impression of a man running around to do a good deed. At 53 he has plenty of drive and personality, knows how to enliven a gathering with an appropriate droll story, and can hold his own in any company.

But there is far more to Spender than the personable lawyer turned politician. Behind the suave manner there is a keen incisive mind, a mind that is refreshingly independent. Indeed, Spender first burst into politics as an independent back in 1937, but he soon realized he wouldn't get far without party affiliations and joined the United Australia Party, forerunner to the Liberal Party which now governs Australia with the Country Party. He had made a name for himself as a company-law barrister and had been appointed King's Counsel at thirty-six—the youngest in the Empire. Before the war, Spender served briefly in the Menzies Cabinet, first as Treasurer and then as Army Minister.

Labor triumphed at the 1941 General Election and Spender and his colleagues went into opposition. It was during the eight years he had to wait before regaining Cabinet rank that Spender's interest turned to foreign affairs.

In Parliament, at public meetings and in pamphlets he campaigned against Australia's "isolationist outlook in international and cultural affairs."

WIDER INTEREST

Australians are now watching with interest Spender's efforts to arouse wider Empire interest in Asia and to create eventually for the Pacific something akin to the Atlantic Pact. With characteristic thoroughness he has visited Pakistan, Indonesia, the Philippines, New Guinea and Papua — besides attending the Colombo Conference.

Walter Lippmann

THE OPENED DOOR

THE French offer to Germany, made just as the foreign ministers were about to meet in London, is a radically new and unexpected event. Though the idea and the terms of the proposal have been studied and discussed for a long time, and are not in the least mysterious, the action of the French government in reaching the historic decision to make the offer was, as it had to be, a very closely guarded state secret.

Therefore Mr. Acheson, quite evidently Mr. Bevin also, are not prepared for what is a very different Europe from the one they gathered in London to discuss.

MR. ACHESON went to Europe in a state of mind and with a policy, if it can be called a policy, which was dreary and grimly discouraging. Every window seemed to be shut. All the shades had been pulled down. All the doors were bolted. And inside that dark and stuffy room the three foreign ministers were to feel their away around in circles, making tremendous efforts to decide whether to study the question or whether they should decide to create another committee to study the questions which had been studied and had been found insoluble. The French government has suddenly opened the door to the real world outside. Through the door there is coming a breeze which is blowing about and messing up the neat files of bureaucratic papers, and there is coming light which is startling and dazzling to the inmates of the room.

THE problems of the Atlantic community as they were posed before the French action were insoluble. The growing knowledge all over western Europe that they were insoluble was producing, naturally enough and inevitably, a mood for defeatism and of escapism—of each nation for itself, and then in the most exposed areas of each person for himself, and the devil take the hindmost.

THE problems of the Atlantic community had become insoluble because the three western governments had no view of Germany which the Germans, apart from a few time-serving place hunters, could possibly share. Western policy for Germany consisted in proposing to admit the western part of Germany to second-class membership in the Atlantic community. The Germans were to accept partition. They were to accept inferior status in the councils of the West. They were to accept total insecurity in that the front defences of the West were to be located between the Elbe and the Rhine. And they were to be offered a choice between disarmament on the one hand, and on the other hand rearmament of the German infantry under the command of British, French and American generals.

THIS absurd conception of Germany was an attempt to contain the Soviet Union by using Germany, and then to contain Germany by the occupation and the statutes and the controls. The main container both of Russia and of Germany was to be the French army which, unfortunately for the planners of this caricature of a policy, was unable to be both in Indo-China and in Europe at the same time.

THE French decision to offer Germany not only peace and equality but an intimate partnership does not solve the insoluble problems which the foreign ministers were struggling with. It transcends those problems, it passes over and beyond them, by creating a wholly knew European situation. A Franco-German partnership would at once give France and Germany a formidable and probably a decisive influence in all continental European questions. Internally and externally the security of both countries would at once be fortified. Each would have less to fear—namely the enmity or the treachery of the other. Both would have much more to hope for in a common use of their immense resources. Both would have restored to them a thing which to older nations is as important as bread and security, namely the conviction that they have an historic mission to perform in the world.

THE Franco-German partnership would become the nucleus of a European system. There are many in the West who hope and believe, as all the Russians apparently fear, that the Franco-German partnership would become the nucleus of a west European system. That is, I think impossible. The Franco-German partnership will break up and fail or it will be the nucleus of a European system. It can never be merely west European, because Germany can never relinquish her national unity nor her organic connections with eastern Europe.

The Franco-German partnership, if it is consummated, will strengthen, not replace, the German movement to end the partition of Germany and the European movement to end the division of Europe.

NICE SLUMP

Winnipeg Free Press

Relevant to the debate in the Canadian House of Commons on Mr. Drew's motion for outlawing Communism is the most recent report on the strength of the Communist party in the United Kingdom.

It is admitted by an official party spokesman that membership has now dropped to 42,000 of whom only about 33,000 are termed "active." This represents a slump of approximately one-third since 1942. The party is no longer represented in Parliament or in the Trades Union Congress council. The Daily Worker is losing about $10,000 a month.

No special measures have been taken by the British Parliament to deal with a party which appears to be doing a good job on its own of "withering away."

'SHORT AND SWEET'?

I think that Verity's "Mystery of Life," May 9, is short and sweet, and very much to the point.

Most of us need a lot more words to express our opinion about this everlasting theme: more power to "Verity." Hope to meet him some time before this earthly existence comes to an end for me.

SHIP MODELS

Your columnist "On the Times" May 11 issue, offers, one thinks, an excellent suggestion that a collection of ship models be assembled in quarters in town where they would be available for the youngsters and adults to inspect and possibly add to their knowledge of ships, ancient and modern.

As one who has been riding the hobby horse of model shipbuilding for many years, I will be pleased to loan three ship models, that I now have at my residence here.

They are scale-built, one of them a 54-inch model of the ill-fated Empress of Canada, lost by enemy action during the last war off the West African coast, a smaller model of H.M.S. "Queen Elizabeth" as she was in World War One, and one other miniature warship. Currently I am building a replica of another C.P.R. ship that could later join the others for exhibition purposes if the scheme goes through.

DRUNKEN DRIVING

In years gone by when hotels were licensed, many, many times a faithful team of horses took the driver safely home, but a high-powered motor car won't do that.

A Dominion law was passed years ago making it illegal for persons whose duties were connected with the movement of trains to use intoxicating drink when on duty, and having a penalty of three years imprisonment for violating this law. It seemed severe at first, but made such a saving in loss of life, railway employees and all concerned were very much pleased with it. I believe that law is still in effect.

I would like to suggest that we petition Parliament to have the same law extended to include our highways. Making it illegal for persons to use intoxicating drinks when driving a motor vehicle on our highways and having the same penalty. The additional safety it would be for motorist and his passengers, the saving in loss of life and property and lessening of cases in our hospitals might be much appreciated by all concerned. We should assist our policeman in their efforts to protect us.

FOR THE CATS

Your readers who love cats and, in addition to caring for their personal pets, regularly set out food and fresh water for the neighborhood strays, will be shocked to learn that approximately 10½ millions of America's cats are uncared for and unwanted by indifferent, unconcerned and apathetic persons.

The American Feline Society, Inc., was founded for the specific and exclusive purpose of alleviating hunger, illness and abuse of these God's creatures who do so much for thoughtless mankind and ask so little in return. Many thousands of cats have been serviced during the past twelve years.

It requires facilities, personnel and funds for this great work; the latter making possible the former two. The Society is now urgently, desperately in need of financial assistance. Won't you help? Please permit us to suggest that a check be sent, even a small one, to: The American Feline Society, Inc., New York 3, N.Y., assured that it will be gratefully received.

WHO PAYS?

It appears that all those in favor of cocktail bars and beer parlors are terribly worried about the tourists not being able to indulge their thirsts. However, strange as it may seem, the tourists still pour in to Victoria, and they don't seem to be very upset about the situation. They are here for only a short time, but our sons and daughters are here for a lifetime mostly. Are we giving them due consideration, or are they going to grow up to be the little bar flies we see in cities where liquor can be had so freely. Let's keep this beautiful city decent for our young folks!

There is one more thing we should keep in mind. Someone always has to pay the piper. With the high cost of living, who is going to pay for the food, clothing, rent and the thousand and one other things, when it has already been spent on liquor. Businessmen, please note—who is going to pay you?

'Forgiveness' Not The Right Word Where Taxed Income Is Concerned

By JOSEPH LISTER RUTLEDGE

THERE is a word in the current tax directives of New York State that is highly illuminating. It points the delusion that has overtaken most governments in this era. The State of New York has decided to "forgive" the taxpayer 10% of his 1949 income tax.

SMALL MATTER

Doubtless the approbation that will follow the decision will cause those benefitted to overlook any small matters of wording. But is it so small? Isn't it suggestive of the whole mistaken attitude of governments toward the people, the attitude that in leaving the public anything at all of their hard-won earnings, government is being rather big about it? There is a tendency to lose sight of the fact that the earners are the owners and the obligation is on government to show cause why any part of those earnings should be taken from him. Governments are virtually implying that individual earners should show cause why they should retain any of the benefits of the sweat of their brow. That a taxpayer should be "forgiven" taxes implies that he has been somewhere at fault. The actual fact is that government has been at fault in assessing him to an extent that the needs of government did not demand.

SOUNDER GROUND

We will be on sounder ground when both taxed and taxing forces fully realize that all taxation must be agreed to by the taxed as a necessary part of their duties of citizenship, and when governments come to realize that they have no vested right in the income of anyone.

RED RIVER VALLEY

Ottawa Citizen

The Red River Valley in Manitoba, now the scene of disastrous floods, is one of the flattest areas in Canada. Southern Manitoba was covered by Lake Agassiz in prehistoric times and much of the territory is ancient lake bed. The elevation along some parts of the Red River is not much more than three feet to the mile.

CBC PROGRAMS

Ottawa Journal

Good opera, good light musical comery and good plays can be produced in Canada but are limited now to a single performance only over the air. Maybe there is an idea here for some courageous producer and impresario, venturesome enough to bring such shows to the public as live performances. An idea too for other organizations who might assist such a venture.

FOREWARNED, FOREARMED

Kamloops Sentinel

We of British Columbia, who may be on the eve of our second Trial by Flood in two years, sympathize with the flood-suffers in Winnipeg and the Red River Valley. We know the tribulations they are undergoing. We've experienced the stunning destructive power of the spring freshet. Whatever British Columbians can do to aid and restore the flood-stricken Manitobans they should and will do, if only because the Manitobans helped us, as did all of Canada, in 1948.

Let's hope we will not need their help again this year. We will have no real right to it unless the elements unleash a fury many times that of 1948.

ROBOT REPARTEE

Christian Science Monitor

The male is a jot less mere than he was when we last noticed him. That was before that vending machine poured hot coffee over a protesting customer in a Minneapolis restaurant the other day. The customer, to be sure, provoked the machine by banging on it when it forgot to supply sugar and cream with the beverage. But the point is that the machine talked back.

This means the end of those utopian dreams in which, we are told, the less unfair sex has been indulging. The world in which robots will take the place of men, doing the dishes, running the errands, making the money, but, above all, never talking back—that world is not just around the corona, after all.

CRIME AGAINST MAN

New York Times

The spring housecleaning comes, and trophies are as a red flag to a bull. Shells are seized upon and are thrown out, despite the fact that the roar of the ocean sounds clearly if they are held to the ear, and the old champagne bottles are tossed into the cellar pile with empty catsup bottles. With catsup, no less, catsup. Photographs are taken down from the walls, and blue ribbons, and the powder horn and compass, and on the pile is a brisk note saying, "Put these things away." Things, indeed. These are not things but trophies. These trophies are important, too important to be the mute playthings of a pastime indulged in by housekeepers and called spring cleaning. If they wish to throw out catsup bottles, that is their affair, but an old champagne bottle deserves the full, rich cobweb of a trophy.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN A. TOBIN

"THERE'S SOMETHING," said the Elevator Man, "in all of us that makes us like to fool each other. It ranges from a simple little 'boo' to scare a fella, through 'jump, there's a bee on your collar,' on up into the higher reaches of chicanery and deception found in salted gold mines and under-water building lots. The shepherd boy who yelled 'wolf, wolf' to fool the village people was only giving in to what most of us succeed in controlling. We know from experience that people want to have a little truth thrown in with what they're being told, like the old fellow who said he always liked to take a little food with his meals. Lower Main!

"In the wolf fable," said the Elevator Man, "the only real loser was the boy. But too often it's the bystanders who are the victims. Take that fellow in the bus near Arras, France, yesterday. He shouted 'fire' for a joke. The bus slammed to a stop, the one behind it went into the ditch, and 25 passengers were injured. People don't usually have much protection against that kind of thing. In any crowd, we're all at the mercy of the stupidest one present. He can scream 'fire' and panic the place, and a hundred people with twice his brains may get injured. Scientists might give up looking for the missing link and figure out the problem of the weak links among us. You don't have to look in prehistoric caves for them, though that would be a happy solution, at that. Going down!

"The practical joker," said the Elevator Man, "isn't very practical and he's no joke. He'll win the vote any time as 'the one we can get on best without,' but I doubt if he'll ever accept office."

These sections of the 150-foot Kelowna-Westbank ferry are now en route by rail to Okanagan Lake, where workmen from Victoria Machinery Depot will assemble a total of 14 sections into the completed 36-car vessel. King Farouk, Angry At Marriage, Says Fathia No Longer Princess

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fathia, 19-year-old sister of King Farouk, was shorn today of her title of princess and of her fortune—but she said she would hold fast to the Egyptian commoner she calls her husband.

"We are going to have a Moslem iman (priest) marry us right away," said the slender brunette, who prefers to be known as "Mrs. Riad Ghali." She emphasized "right away."

That was her comment upon being told that her brother had issued a royal decree in Cairo depriving her of "the title of princess and of all prerogatives given her by this title."

The youngest member of the Egyptian royal family, who angered the King by her April 25 marriage in a civil ceremony to the 31-year-old secretary to her mother, said the lifting of her title had been "expected, therefore it was not a blow."

She was certain she could find a Moslem who would perform the religious ceremony.

Until then, the two are living separately.

The queen mother, Nazli, in the United States since 1946 for her health, said she too expected the decree.

"No matter, she will always be a princess, I think," she said.

THE HOME GARDEN

Everybody Interested In Types Of Tulips

By JACK G. BEASTALL

"Could you please tell me the name of the tulips which have the pretty striped markings?"

It seemed as if every third person who visited the tulip show asked this question.

There are two types of striped tulips. One of these, through some freak condition, broke up its even coloring and eventually was marketed as a Broken Darwin or Rembrandt.

Following this came the Broken Breeders and the Broken Cottage varieties.

The other type, which is most common in the gardens of Victoria, is a diseased plant and should be destroyed as soon as it is noticed.

The difference between the two is in the ground color of the flower. The broken ones have a light ground, generally white or yellow, and the markings are of darker colors.

The diseased tulips have a dark ground color with white stripes. Also the stems have light and dark streaks, the leaves are mottled, and sometimes the entire plant is dwarfed.

Unfortunately, science has been unable to give us any simple, effective control. It is a virus disease called "mosaic." In the laboratory, the same symptoms have been produced by injecting the sap from one plant into the tissues of another of the same species.

From these experiments it is assumed that the disease is transmitted by sucking insects.

Quite a few gardeners have confessed that they are making a collection of these disease-ridden plants. Some have already noticed more striped, and less self-colored, tulips in their plantings each year. From their gardens it will spread to their neighbors.

The gardner who harbors these diseased tulips is jeopardizing the entire tulip industry on lower Vancouver Island, and this means the livelihood of about 100 families.

Father Dies Happily As Child Lives

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A father gave his life to save his son's here Tuesday, following a blood exchange operation.

The son, 11-year-old Robert Bruce Lawrence, probably will recover, physicians said. He has nephrosis, a kidney disease, and needed a complete change of blood.

Sidney E. Lawrence, 40, the father, volunteered for the operation. The bloods were of matching type. He was told that in such an operation there always is some danger to the donor because of foreign material he is taking into his own system.

"Go ahead," he said.

The operation was performed several days ago and, for nearly three hours, father and son were linked together by tubes exchanging their blood. Today the father died.

"He died thinking he had saved his son's life. That was a wonderful thought to him," said Mrs. Norma Gene Lawrence, the widow.

Man Risks Life Saving Helicopter At Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — A 40-year-old construction engineer, hauled twice to safety, braved the Niagara rapids Tuesday night for a third time and succeeded in his mission.

A $25,000 helicopter wrecked Monday in a dramatic rescue operation finally was righted and towed to shore.

Jerry Penque had two close calls earlier in attempts to pull the helicopter from the churning waters near the brink of the Horseshoe Falls.

With help Tuesday night, he got the craft to shore and it was dragged out of the river with a crane, in about three hours.

The first time he tried, his boat was swamped and he had to scramble aboard the helicopter.

The second time, several hours later, he fell into the river while reaching for the boat to grab a rope lashed to the helicopter.

Hangar, Planes Burn

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — A hangar and seven private planes were destroyed by fire and explosions Tuesday night at the municipally-owned Eugene Airpark, west of the city. Damage is estimated at $15,000 to hangar and equipment and $20,000 to aircraft.

Savings Total Up By $3,000,000,000

Canadians Increase Reserves By $400,000,000 Each 12 Months

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que. (CP)—Thrifty Canadians have socked away more than $3,000,000,000 in the last four years. What's more, they're increasing their savings at the rate of $400,000,000 a year.

This was disclosed today by J. E. Coyne, deputy-governor of the Bank of Canada in a speech at the annual meeting of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association.

While Canadians are thrifty, they also are cautious, the deputy-governor added. Although this pile of cash together with surpluses accumulating in corporation accounts could be sufficient to meet Canadian investment needs, Canada still is getting much of her investment requirements from foreign sources.

The trouble, indicated Mr. Coyne, is that Canadians are not too eager to get into the risky investment field of developing resources. They favor more conservative investments such as housing mortgages and the like. This helped Canada, but it was not enough.

Thus, whether Canada needed foreign capital or not, Canada was continuing to receive foreign capital simply because foreign investors established themselves in Canada and were showing more interest in development than some Canadians.

"Experience of the last few years shows," said Mr. Coyne, "that someone is going to develop the resources and industries of this country, if not Canadians, then Americans, Britons and Europeans.

"One-half of all dividends of all Canadian corporations," said Mr. Coyne, "are paid to non-residents."

The way to bring an end to this export of dollars is for banks and insurance companies who hold at least 60 per cent of the savings to transmute greater amounts of the individuals' savings into productive investment.

This, then, was the trend for "an increasingly important" role to be played by Canada's insurance companies and banks.

Senator Reid Criticized By Premier Of B.C.

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Senator Tom Reid came under heavy fire from Premier Byron Johnson at a Liberal meeting here Tuesday night.

"I am amazed that a man in public life like Senator Tom Reid would make such statements," said Mr. Johnson.

He was referring to Senator Reid's criticisms of negotiations between the provincial government and the Aluminum Company of Canada.

"Mr. Reid has nearly succeeded in driving the Aluminum Company out of B.C." stated the Premier. "His statements may be the last straw in convincing the company to establish elsewhere."

Premier Johnson said he had "made it plain since the election last June we were going to do everything we could to bring the Aluminum Company here."

He said the company will invest $500,000,000 in B.C. and provide employment for 12,000 persons.

The Premier termed "ridiculous" a claim by Senator Reid that the company will export B.C. power to the United States. He cited engineering opinion that the idea is "fantastic."

Referring to the senator's statements that the project will endanger the B.C. fishing industry, Premier Johnson said "the Salmon Fisheries Commission, of which Senator Reid is chairman, has stated the Nechako area is inaccessible to fish."

TUBERCULOSIS TO BE TAMED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Tuberculosis will become insignificant as a "killer disease" within the next 25 years Dr. C. J. Beckwith, president of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association today said at the organization's annual convention.

In 1900 one out of every 10 patients died. Today only one of 333 victims dies. Early diagnosis and preventive measures will effect still greater improvements, he said.

Kiwanians' Wives Take Over At Weekly Luncheon

Wives of city Kiwanians took over the club's luncheon meeting from their husbands Tuesday and through the help of a quartette from the Meistersingers and a charming songstress from New Westminster, presented an entertaining musical program.

Dudley Wickett, Jim Oakman, Ted Boulden and Gilbert Margeson formed the quartette. Their selections included: "The Ranger's Song," "One Alone," "Deep River," "Sweet Sixteen," "The Green-Eyed Dragon," and "Dry Bones."

Miss Peggy Linn of New Westminster rendered "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes" and "His Mammy's Eyes."

Kiwanians Sam Swetnam and Frank Ivings sang "Billie Boy" as a duet while the Meistersingers' quartette acted as accomists. Piano accompanist was Mrs. Maquinna Anderson.

Cy Williams proposed the toast to the ladies of Kiwanis and Mrs. Claude Prutton replied. Chairman of the meeting was Mrs. Alice Hibberson, wife of the service club's president.

The annual Kiwanis-Rotary golf and bowling tournaments will be held May 31. The golf tourney will be staged at the Uplands Golf Club.

First Keel Laid For Navy Vessels

keel of the first of a series of vessels to be built here for the Royal Canadian Navy was laid Tuesday at a ceremony attended by navy officials from Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec. The ceremony took place in the shipyards of George T. Davie and Sons, under contract to the Department of National Defence for the construction of four trawler-type vessels, three escort vessels and one coast guard vessel.

Labor Leader Dies

Pearson Says Free Lands Must Increase Word War

LONDON (CP)—L. B. Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister, Tuesday night called on the free world to find fresh and imaginative phrases in the propaganda war against Russia.

The democratic truths are as valid as ever, he said, but "they need restating in forms which penetrate the hearts and minds of our peoples."

Mr. Pearson addressed the Canada Club, the oldest dining club in London. Its members are influential Canadians living in Britain.

He said that Communism, as an ideological mask for Soviet imperialism, is a "fighting" political faith which despite its falseness has captured some of the best minds of this generation."

Crop Loss In Manitoba May Rise To $20,000,000

Official Says Little Wheat Will Be Cut Unless Floods Soon Cease To Delay Work

WINNIPEG (CP)—Crop loss in flooded southern Manitoba this year "may run as high as $20,000,000," a provincial agriculture official estimated today.

More than 500,000 acres of land are flooded, he said. About 400,000 would normally be planted. Approximately 2,000 farms—excluding market gardens—are affected by the Red River inundation.

"Unless we have most favorable weather, with water receding quickly and fast drying, only a small portion will be seeded this year," he said.

"This is strictly an 'if' proposition.

"If a miracle happens as it did in 1948, the loss will not be as great as I predict. However, little wheat will be seeded unless farmers can get it in within the next two or three weeks, say by June 5 or 6.

"Emphasis will be on barley, oats and flax, and probably millet corn for seed."

In all branches of agriculture, it is a slow year. Dairymen report little or no pasture for their herds. Egg production is down about 10 per cent from last year.

Reprinting Of Speeches Scored

OTTAWA (CP)—Two opposition members protested in the Commons Tuesday that cabinet ministers were getting preferred treatment in the reprinting of their speeches.

Angus MacInnis, C.C.F., Vancouver East, said he had come across a reprint of a speech by Health Minister Martin which was printed on good paper and contained subheadings, which normally are barred by regulations governing reprints.

G. K. Fraser, P.C., Peterborough West, objected to the weekly news summary for the external affairs department, circulated outside of Canada, because it contained large excerpts of speeches by government members, including Prime Minister St. Laurent and External Affairs Minister Pearson.

Ottawa Archbishop Eucharistic Figure

VATICAN CITY (Reuter)—Pope Pius has nominated Most Rev. Alexander Vachon, Archbishop of Ottawa, to be president of the Permanent Committee for International Eucharistic Congresses, the Vatican announced.

The appointment runs 10 years.

Msgr. Vachon's work will include the preparation of the first postwar international eucharistic congress which, it is believed, may be held next year.

NEW PRESIDENT of Kiwanis International is Don H. Murdoch of Winnipeg. He was chosen to succeed J. Hugh Jackson of California at a Miami convention.

To Press For More Parks

Greater Victoria's Recreation Council has decided to campaign for support from other organizations to press councils of the four municipalities to set aside more vacant property for use as parks and playgrounds.

The recreation council acted on a recent report of W. H. Warren, city parks superintendent, who said playing space in Greater Victoria was sadly lacking.

Teen-Age Canadians Mark Annual Air Cadet Week

Members of the No. 89 (Kinsman) Squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Cadet Corps this week are joining with 15,000 other 'teen-age Canadian youths in observing the third annual air cadet week.

Though activities by the local group this year are somewhat restricted because they have been evicted from their Macaulay Camp headquarters and are thus unable to hold their usual open house and displays, a church parade will take place Sunday.

Between 40 and 50 cadets are expected to take part.

200 SQUADRONS

There are about 200 squadrons of cadets across Canada, all united in a common desire to fly. The lads follow a program of study and recreation designed to prepare them for future responsibilities as citizens.

Their training also has many practical advantages, for it offers each cadet numerous opportunities to improve his knowledge and develop new skills. In addition, there are incentive rewards such as flying training, exchange visits to Britain and the United States and scholarships to bring out the best in every cadet.

Each summer, the youths are given the opportunity to attend summer camp at an R.C.A.F. station. On graduation, senior air cadets can qualify for flying scholarships, bursaries which enable them to attend the University of Toronto or one of the Canadian Services Colleges at Royal Roads or R.M.C. at Kingston, Ont.

Riches Go To Old Prospector

VANCOUVER (CP)—The pot of gold has come to a pioneer British Columbia prospector now living in Rossland.

Joseph Grafton, owner of the Dubrovnick property, reports he has sold his interests for $125,000, plus 10 per cent of cash returns from ore shipped to the smelter over a period of two years.

Buyers are the Granville Mines Corporation Ltd., which plans to work the Dubrovnick, one of the early discoveries in the Cascades.

ATOMIC TOYS FOR CHILDREN

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) Come now real atomic toys for the youngsters.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reports it is shipping radioactive isotopes to a New Haven toy manufacturing company. The ray-emitting isoptope is Zinc 65, described by atomic scientists as "harmless," with a half-life of 250 days.

A.E.C. says the company proposes to make toys in which children can watch "atomic disintegration."

Abandon Plan For Strike Vote

Saanich Municipal Employees Association has decided not to hold a strike vote.

This was originally planned after Saanich Council rejected a conciliation board recommendation for pay increases ranging from $5 to $21 a month to 18 top employees of the municipality and also that the 84-member group be covered by Medical Services Association plan.

Council decided it would undertake the M.S.A. plan, but would consider no pay increases. The strike vote was then mooted, but a later meeting discarded the idea.

Yugoslavia's Peter Settling In Britain

Flow Of Tourists To City Increasing

Better weather and increasing number of U.S. license plates during past week indicate holiday season is here, and many tourists from south of border are heading for Vancouver Island. Though most families will not travel until school gets out next month, Dr. James T. Speros of Portland thought he would take children along for trip during which he will attend Canadian T.B. Association convention in Vancouver. C.P.R. policeman Sid Smith points out Parliament Buildings to family, something he will be doing many times during next few months. Left to right are Tom and Mark, 11-year-old twins, Dr. and Mrs. Speros, and three-year-old Elisabeth.

Officials' Powers Debated By M.P.'s

Laws Made By Parliament Should Be Supreme, Members Declare

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons had plenty to say Tuesday about putting power in the hands of either civil or military authorities and the government was told laws made by Parliament itself ought to be supreme.

Opposition members attacked what they termed "arbitrary" power of the Postmaster-General to cut off the mail of anyone he thought was attempting fraud.

Later, in a debate on the government's new streamlined national defence legislation, they warned against putting too much faith in the old, traditional courts-martial. In fact, some would reduce its jurisdiction to a small list of military offences and have service personnel sent to civil courts for other crimes.

The House set up a committee for further study of the defence legislation, a bulky document under which all Canada's sailors, soldiers and airmen will be brought under a single code of service discipline.

The committee also will study legislation which simplifies and consolidates army pension regulations and legislation providing for the distribution of $2,500,000 of prize money, granted for the capture of enemy vessels in wartime.

Defence Minister Claxton said widest possible scope for study would be given in committee. But the question of defence costs could not be dealt with.

In the big debate of the day, George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, criticized the power the Postmaster-General recently invoked against a number of brokerage firms in Toronto, shutting off their mail.

DREW'S OPINION

Mr. Drew said suspicion of fraud should be dealt with by law and not left to the "whim" of a government official. There should be an amendment to the Criminal Code if necessary.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, agreed the law should be strengthened if necessary. He was against putting more arbitrary power in the hands of officials.

Justice Minister Garson wound up, defending the power conferred on the Postmaster-General under the Post Office Act. That power would be retained, he said, but the government was considering an amendment to the act to provide a "quick" appeal to the courts in such cases.

Other speakers were C. L. Jones (C.C.F.-Yale); John Blackmore (S.C.-Lethbridge); A. L. Smith (P.C.-Calgary West); Julian Ferguson (P.C.-Simcoe North).

10,000 Homes In Vancouver Lose Gas Flow

VANCOUVER (AP)—An estimated 10,000 Greater Vancouver homes were without cooking gas following an explosion at a B.C. Electric gas plant at Tuesday's supper hour.

The explosion ripped apart a compressor adjoining a gas storage tank at Clark and Second Streets, injuring three B.C.E.R. employees, none of them seriously.

B.C.E.R.'s gas trouble department said Tuesday night one-fifth of an estimated 50,000 lower mainland gas installations had been ruptured by the blast.

Residents in North Vancouver, South Vancouver, South Hastings Townsite, South Burnaby and New Westminster were deprived of their supply.

Company spokesmen said service in three areas could not be restored until one of the compressors in the blasted house is repaired sometime today.

Befuddled householders, preparing the evening meal, were forced, in many instances, to resort to a cold supper. Many, not realizing what had happened, telephoned the B.C.E.R.'s gas trouble department until that division's line was a continuous "busy" signal.

The compressor plant, next to the 1,500,000-cubic feet capacity gas storage house, blew up with a hissing roar. The blast was heard for blocks around the Grandview residential and business area.

All three injured workmen were cut about the face and hands by flying glass. They are George Tilbe, Fred Andrews and Bill McNeill.

Wins Scholarship

The recipient of the Emily Carr Memorial Scholarship for 1950 is William Calder, former resident of Victoria, now instructor at Vancouver Art School.

Mr. Calder received his early art training at Victoria Art School and later at Vancouver School of Art. He will continue his studies at San Francisco School of Fine Art and Design and at the Chicago Art Institute.

MAN WORKED AS 'TEMPORARY' FEDERAL EMPLOYEE 17 YEARS

OTTAWA (CP)—It's quite possible for a man or woman to work 17 years for the government without being shifted from the status of a temporary to a permanent civil servant, the Commons public accounts committee was told Tuesday.

F. H. Helme (L.-Prince Albert) cited one specific case where that happened and where the man retired without superannuation pension because he was not permanent.

To a surprised J. M. Macdonnell (P.C.-Toronto-Greenwood), a finance department official confirmed that it was possible and he added that there are many temporary civil servants who have held that status "many years."

Four-Day Circus At Arena During Maytime Holiday

Another big attraction has been added to the holiday week by the Greater Victoria Celebrations Association. The Circus Olympia will appear at the Memorial Arena for four days starting May 20 and concluding on May 24. Two shows will be given daily, a matinee and evening performance.

This European circus will bring to Canada the Henrys with their trained Stallion Ponies, Marie and her Mad Wags, a troupe of trained canines.

The Flying LaForms, who perform hazardous feats in midair on the lofty trapeze, including Miss LaForm, who is said to be the only woman in the world doing the triple somersault from trapeze to catcher.

Frenchy Manning, the clever comedy cowboy on the tight wire; Rex Story, the juggling jester; Kayleta, the girl in the air; Penny Parker, clown and his many comedy gadgets, including his comedy gas wagon; the Four Dandies, a quartette of comedy singers and musical artists; Lane and Lindell in a thrilling acrobatic adagio, and Tarzan, the human ape, are many others on the program.

BRITONS LEARNING 'AMERICAN'

Canadians Prominent In Cast Of Typical Broadway Thriller

By WILLIAM BOSS

LONDON (CP) — Londoners, one of whose ideas of fun is to imitate the "American" accent, have just seen it displace the King's English in yet another theatre.

The opening at the Princes Theatre of "Detective Story" by Sidney Kingsley brings to six the number of United States imports now on London boards. Incidentally, it gives another outlet for Canadian actors on the British stage.

Film star Douglass Montgomery, Canadian army veteran, is the play's Detective McLeod, for whom good and evil are as simple as black and white.

The supporting cast includes four from Toronto—Charles Farrell, Jon Farrell (no relation), former reporter and editor of Vancouver, Edmonton and Toronto newspapers; Ann Lewis and Austin Willis, a film actor in his first London stage role.

Also appearing are Ottawa's Virginia Bedard, Warren Stanhope from Vancouver and Ronan O'Casey of Montreal.

Montgomery, six feet tall and with a youthful appearance belying his 40 years, battled laryngitis through opening nights and was forbidden by his doctor to speak between performances. His dressing room, littered with throat atomizers, lozenges, drops and other aids, might have been a throat specialist's clinic.

An affable type and easy to talk to, Montgomery was born in Los Angeles, the son of a Brantford, Ont., jeweler and his American wife. The family had settled there and the stage attracted young Douglass early in life.

He joined the Canadian army early in the war, having previously come to like the Dominion while traveling on eastern theatrical circuits. He enlisted in Vancouver, served in British Columbia, the prairies and in the east before being sent overseas. After service in Britain and on the continent he was detailed one day to report to Denham film studios.

He has never looked back, he says, since his "command performance" in "The Way of the Stars." Other films include "The Cat and the Canary" and "Woman to Woman," while earlier, under the name of Kent Douglass, he made "Paid" with Joan Crawford and "Daughter of Luxury" with Marion Davies.

As Douglass Montgomery, he appeared in Hollywood versions of "Little Women" and "Waterloo Bridge." Both pictures have been remade since.

His present goal is consolidation of his position on the London stage with films and broadcasting where possible.

New Process To Make More Woods Useable

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A new, economical pulping process, designed for little-used hardwoods, was announced by the United States Forest Products Laboratory today.

Members of the American Paper and Pulp Association's committee on co-ordination of research heard G. H. Chidester, chief of the laboratory's division of pulp and paper, report on the process.

It already has passed, "with flying colors," first tests on standard-size machines of the Green Bay, Wis., paper and pulp company, Chidester said.

GENERAL MANAGER of the Monarch Life Assurance Company, Gordon C. Cumming, was elected president of Canada Life Insurance Officers' Association at association's annual meeting at Montebello, P.Q. He was first vice-president during 1949-50 term.

BASES-LOADED HOMERS MARK COAST GAMES

Oakland, Angels Use Old Method For Smart Triumphs

For downright explosiveness, the old-fashioned home run with the bases loaded is hard to beat.

Oakland and Los Angeles proved that in the Coast League last night, with Oak Roy Zimmerman and Angel John Lucadello dynamiting Hollywood and San Francisco, respectively.

Zimmerman's big blast came with one out in the last half of the 11th to give the Oaks a 12 to 8 triumph. Lucadello, hitting his first round tripper of the year, picked the two-away, last-of-the-ninth spot for his dramatics and an 8 to 4 Los Angeles win.

Hollywood's loss dropped the Stars two full games behind pace-making San Diego, which bested Portland, 7 to 3, on lefty Roy Welmaker's seventh victory. Rounding out the eevning's activity, Sacramento began its defence of seventh place with a 6 to 5 win over Seattle.

In the Oakland - Hollywood donnybrook, the props were set up for Mr. Zimmerman as follows: Artie Wilson singled and advanced on an out. George Metkovich was walked purposely. Earl Rapp was walked unpurposely. Zimmerman clobbered Gordy Maltzberger's first pitch high into the right-field stands. He had hit another homer earlier off Ben Wade, as had Metkovich. Chuck Stevens singled and homered for the Stars to run his hit string to 10 straight (the league record is 12) before flying out.

Art Worth Goes To Globe-Miami

SPOKANE (AP) — Spokane Indians trimmed first baseman Art Worth and pitcher Wayne Brock from the roster Tuesday.

The pair were shipped off on option to Globe-Miami of the Class C Arizona-Texas league.

The cut leaves the Indians two players above the Western International League's limit of 17.

COAST HOCKEY LEAGUE LOSES SOUTHERN GROUP

SEATTLE (AP)—San Diego has quit the Pacific Coast Hockey League, leaving only Los Angeles and Fresno in a southern division that listed five teams last season.

League president Al Leader announced the San Diego resignation had been accepted. Because it was doubtful that the two remaining teams would try to operate in the shrunken southern section, Leader said the league directors had tabled a franchise application from San Bernardino.

The directors elected Leader president, secretary and assistant treasurer for another year.

B.C. Soccer Stars Aid Flood Fund

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia's all-star soccer team will play an exhibition match here next Monday to aid Manitoba's flood victims, it was announced today.

The all-stars, who meet England's touring representative side here May 30 and June 3, will play opposition picked from the four Pacific Coast Soccer League teams in the benefit.

FARMERS WIN

A sixth-inning home run by Norm Dickie with two men on base provided the winning margin as Farmer's defeated Poodle Dog, 9 to 6, in a Minor Baseball Association contest Monday night.

RUGBY MEETING

Annual general meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union will be held at the Douglas Hotel Friday evening at 7.30.

Veteran Burrards Worthy Champions

Just what goes to make up a championship lacrosse club.

Burrard Westerns, who meet the Shamrocks here tonight in the locals' second intercity league start of the season, could well supply the answer to that question as they are the present holders of the Mann Cup, highest bauble in Canadian lacrosse.

When asked about the Burrards, Shamrocks' coach Arnold Ferguson said: "They're a good experienced club, strong from the goal out." And a study of the Burrards team bears out the opinion of the popular Victoria playing mentor.

Starting with the goalkeeper, Jack Green, one finds that this six feet two inch, 19-year-old star last year topped all other netminders in the intercity league.

That alone is a good recommendation for any club. However, Burrards strength doesn't stop there. Up front the club boasts two men who last year tied for the league's scoring championship, Harry Buchanan and Jim Anderson.

TROPHY HOLDERS

Buchanan, who is in the midget class at five feet seven inches and 150 pounds was also the 1949 winner of the Maitland Trophy, awarded annually to the league's outstanding player. Another outstanding member of the club not expected to see action in this game is Don Matheson, who last year won the Mike Kelly award as the most valuable player in the Mann Cup finals.

In addition to these individual awards Burrards are virtually loaded with trophies. The team holds the MacDonald Trophy as intercity champions, the Kilmarnock Cup as B.C. titlists and of course the Mann Cup.

INDIANS WIN

Burrards, however, have been finding the going tough in early season games and last night dropped their second straight decision losing to the Indians in overtime 16 to 11.

The veterans started well enough and led 4 to 1 at the quarter pole and 6 to 4 at the half but then they ran out of gas and were caught by the Indians.

The lead changed hands four times before ending in a 10 to 10 sawoff at regulation time. In the overtime Indians pumped home six goals to one for the Burrards.

LOS ANGELES—Art Aragon, 137½, of Los Angeles, knocked out Tommy Campbell, 140, Rock Island, Ill, 3.

Toppers Upset Foresters

Toppers pulled a mild upset in the women's softball league last night by waltzing to a 12 to 3 victory over Foresters. It was the first win of the season for the junior club and the first defeat for the lodge femmes.

Fifteen bases on balls by Jocelyn Richmond, on the hill for Foresters, tell the story of the game. The ex-Ladysmith twirler had difficulty with her control all evening and was in continuous trouble.

After two scoreless frames, Toppers put together three hits and four walks for six runs in the top of the third inning. They added a pair in the fourth, punched three more tallies across the plate in the fifth and completed their rout with a singleton in the sixth.

Shaw hurled the victory for Toppers, giving up a single run in the fourth and a brace in the fifth.

TONY FREITAS GIVEN RELEASE

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Tony Freitas, southpaw hurler and long-time fixture in the Pacific Coast League, today was handed his unconditional release by Sacramento Solons.

The 42-year-old Freitas said he has no immediate plans. During his 21-year professional baseball career, he has won 228 games.

Tri-City Power Too Much For A's

Nicholas In No-Hit Game For Capilanos

Tri-City Braves sunk the Victoria Athletics a notch deeper in the Western International League cellar last night at Kennewick, lacing the A's 13 to 6.

The Braves made good use of the reliable method of hitting with men on bases to accomplish the rout as Joe Mishasek and Jim Hedgecock failed to stem the tide.

After Joe Morjoseph had given the A's a 1 to 0 lead in the top of the second with his first home run of the year the Braves fell on Mishasek for five unearned runs in the bottom half of the frame. Jim Warner applied the cruncher with a bases loaded home run.

The A's came back with three runs in the fourth but Tri-City soon wiped out any advantage gained by scoring three in the fifth and five in the sixth.

Pitcher Joe Orrell cleaned the bases with a two-base hit to account for the fifth-inning outburst and Neil Bryant tripled with the sacks again bulging in the sixth to add to the A's woes.

Ron Smith mopped up for the club and got by wihout further damage in his two-inning stand.

Tonight manager Marty Krug will send John Marshall to the mound in an attempt to get the club back on even terms in the series.

NO HITTER

The best pitching job of the season was turned in by George Nicholas of the Vancouver Caps at Spokane, the chunky right-hander hurling a no-hit, no-run game at the Indians. Only three men reached first base and none got as far as second. Two bases on balls and a hit batter were all that stood between Nicholas and a "perfect" game. The Caps won, 7 to 0.

In other games Wenatchee out-hit Salem but lost, 6 to 5, and Tacoma Tigers tightened their hold on first place with an 8 to 5 victory over Yakima.

Toronto Leafs Sign Armstrong

TORONTO (CP) — George Armstrong, star forward of the junior and senior amateur Toronto Marlboros, today signed a professional contract with the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League. Armstrong, who helped the senior Marlboros win the Allan Cup this month, played the limit of three games with the N.H.L. club while an amateur.

Opposition To No-Foul Rule In British Boxing

LONDON (AP) — An attempt to get a "no-foul" rule into British boxing will be made at the annual meeting of the Boxing Board of Control.

Promoter Jack Solomons and some others will oppose it.

Solomons said: "This has been tried before, and as far as I am concerned British rules are good enough and there is no reason why they should be changed."

A keen supporter of a no-foul rule is Bill Daly, manager of Lee Savold, who is training at Scarborough, Yorkshire, for his June 6 world heavyweight championship fight, British version, against Bruce Woodcock.

Daly said: "We lost our last fight with Woodcock on an alleged low punch. If a boxer wears a proper protective cup he cannot be hurt and there is no reason why fights should end on a disqualification. The introduction of the no-foul rule saved American boxing some years ago. It was badly needed."

Woodcock's manager, Tom Hurst, said he is strongly against such a rule being introduced.

Salem's Tierney Leading Hurler In Willy League

TACOMA (AP) — Two conquests last week, a 3 to 2 win over Yakima and a 7 to 3 decision over Spokane, gave John Tierney of Salem the undisputed pitching leadership of the Western International League.

Tierney now has notched six victories without a defeat, one more than Tacoma's Bob Kerrigan, who gained No. 5 when his Tiger mates rallied for two runs in the ninth to tie the score, then took a 6 to 3 verdict over Victoria in 10 innings last Thursday.

Tierney picked up five of his wins in starting roles—he's gone the distance that many times, incidentally—plus a single triumph in relief.

Tom Breisinger of Wenatchee clung to the strikeout leadership with 48.

Shift Horses To Montreal For Training

WINNIPEG (CP)—Due to the flood situation in Winnipeg, western owners may shift their stables to Montreal's Blue Bonnets race track, it was announced here today.

Racing secretary Jimmy Phelan said he received a wire from L. E. Dupont, Winnipeg, inquiring about accommodations and the possibility of entering his horses in races here. Dupont is a popular western horse racer.

More than 500 horses already are registered at Blue Bonnets and another 200 are expected to arrive shortly.

Stalls outside the track have been rented to accommodate the overflow.

BUFFALO, N.Y.—Rocky Graziano, 159, New York, knocked out Henry Brimm, 157¼, Buffalo, 4.

MONSTER OUTDOOR DOG SHOW

Four Groups Stage Varied Program At Goldstream Park Flats Sunday

Greater Victoria's canine world will be on parade in an all-day varied dog show to be presented Sunday at the Goldstream Park flats.

The biggest outdoor affair of its kind to be promoted here, the show has been arranged by four local organizations interested in breeding dogs for show and obedience and the game trials.

Starting at 11 and continuing all day, the show is expected to attract hundreds of dog lovers. The public is invited and refreshments will be available at the fine clubhouse of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association.

According to Victoria Gun Dog Club official Les Dicks, the program will get under way with land trials for retrievers. This will continue until around 1, when a break will be made for lunch.

THREE CLASSES

Afternoon program will open with obedience tests for dogs.

Between 3 and 4 there will be a junior puppy show. This will be in three classes, two to four months, four to eight months, and eight to 12 months.

"It's open to all puppies," said Dicks.

Post entries for the show will be welcomed.

From 4 on, dogs will be put through water tests.

Sponsoring the program are the Victoria Gun Dog Club, Greater Victoria Dog Obedience Club, Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers and the Victoria City Kennel Club.

Ray Ritchie, president of the fish and game club, reports that the directors recently mapped out a 1950 program.

He pointed out that a new road to the clubhouse, located on the fringe of the Goldstream flats, has been constructed and is now in use. It starts from a point south of where the old Niagara Canyon bridge was located on the Island Highway. Signs identify the new road.

"The clubhouse is all shipshape now and we've manufactured a wading pool for the younger generation," said the president.

JUNIOR TEAM

He said the club was forming a junior .22 rifle team under the capable guidance of Norman Alexander and Lorne Woodley.

The V.F.G.P.A. has decided to put up a challenge cup to be vied for by rifle teams from sportsmen's clubs all over the island.

The membership of the club is reported to be increasing steadily.

Club officials have voted to put up road signs over a wide area urging the motoring public to be careful and not run over game birds and animals.

FROM THE FANSTAND

By PETE SALLAWAY, Times Sports Editor

Construct an arena with fairly adequate parking facilities then eliminate the parking by permitting a circus to move into the location. That's the situation existing in front of the city's $1,000,000 building today. Patrons of tonight's intercity box lacrosse game are going to have to leave their cars two or three blocks away and finish their trip afoot. Just why the city fathers saw fit to give away this parking space for a few paltry dollars I'll never be able to figure out.

Adequate Car Parking A Must

In this day and age the providing of car parking for major sports events is a must. Best evidence of this is demonstrated by the mammoth parking areas set up at all the modern racetracks and ball parks in the United States. Surely there were more suitable areas available in the city for the location of the circus than smack in front of our Arena. The set-up just doesn't make sense. It would have been just as sound reasoning to have closed off Caledonia Avenue between Quadra and Cook Streets and permitted the circus to set up in front of Athletic Park. If the intercity boxla club suffers any appreciable drop in attendance while the circus holds forth it should request the city for financial compensation.

Perfect Reverse Hole-In-One

Heard today of a perfect hole-in-one in reverse. It seems Jimmy Simpson was playing over the Colwood course the other afternoon and hooked his shot off the sixth tee to hole out on the seventh green. Despite the fact he was a little ahead of himself, Simpson still had to step up to the bar and buy for the other members of the party on the conclusion of the round.

Footballers May Get Shock

Those British soccer players who have elected to give up their jobs with an English club to throw in their lot with a club in Colombia, may find themselves in much the same position as the ball players who jumped from organized baseball into the Mexican League.

Like the baseballers they may be faced with a terrific increase in living costs while playing conditions will be far removed from the first-class accommodation provided in their homeland. Ball players who went to Mexico found it hard to stomach the miserable fields, badly-equipped clubhouses and lower standard of living. One of their biggest problems was to uncover palatable drinking water.

Acid Test For Our Shamrocks

Coach Arnold Ferguson's Shamrocks meet the acid test tonight at the Arena when they go up against the Canadian champion Vancouver Burrards. The Victoria club got away to a flying start by winning its opening match against New Westminster Salmonbellies but faces much more rugged opposition in Burrards. Ferguson has faith in his charges and is confident they can hold their own with the best in the club. We'll know better after tonight. If the Shamrocks provide Burrards with first-class competition they will be doing well. They don't have to win to further consolidate themselves with local followers.

Cast-Off Colt Will Face Middleground Saturday

BALTIMORE (AP) — King Ranch will meet a kinsman in Saturday's Preakness, but there'll be no fraternal feeling around.

In fact, the opposite will be true. For Kinsman is the name of a colt that's due to face Middleground in the $50,000 race.

Kinsman and Middleground both were foaled on the King Ranch in Texas. Middleground was tabbed potentially great as a colt and was brought on to win the Kentucky Derby. Kinsman was the ugly duckling and sold.

Mrs. James Carson of Perryville, Md., bought Kinsman last spring. And now he's popping up to haunt King Ranch in the Preakness, in which Middleground is slated to be a favorite.

It will be a stunning upset if Kinsman wins, of course. But that won't ease the embarrassment of trainer Max Hirsch if his star Middleground is beaten by the colt he cast off.

Not only would he have sold a Preakness winner, he'd find the same colt breaking up Middleground's chances for the triple crown. And for Hirsch, who is considered as smart as they come in this racing business, that would be the last straw.

However, while Kinsman is a distinct outsider in the probable field, he isn't without some ability. During the Florida season he took a race from Oil Capitol and Theory when those two were prime prospects for the derby.

Kinsman wasn't eligible for the Kentucky classic. But Mrs. Carson laid down $1,500 to make him a supplemental candidate for the Preakness.

The technique is different but result the same as, left, Yogi Berra, back to camera, and Bobby Brown grapple for Joe Gordon's pop fly in New York Yankees-Cleveland game in New York; and right, first baseman Henry Arft and Owen Friend, 7, collide chasing Ted Williams' fly in St. Louis-Red Sox game in Boston. Third baseman Brown and second baseman Friend made the putouts.

Sparkling Mound Stands In Majors

NEW YORK (UP)—People who believe that pitching is a lost art should watch Robin Roberts, Ewell Blackwell, Johnny Sain, Preacher Roe, Allie Reynolds, Bob Rush, Joe Dobson, or Early Wynn.

The hurlers gave pretty convincing evidence to the contrary yesterday. They had it all over the hitters and the old-fashioned battle between Kid Roberts of the Phils and crafty veteran Blackwell of the Cincinnati Reds in Philadelphia topped them all.

The Phils beat the Reds 1 to 0 because Roberts gave up just two hits and would have had a no-hitter if Ron Northey hadn't got his single and a double. Blackwell gave up only three scratch singles but two came in the first inning which enabled the Phils to score the only run of the ball game.

Big John Sain scored his second straight shutout for the Boston Braves by winning 3 to 0 over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Murry Dickson hurled a creditable five-hitter in losing.

HOMER FOR ELLIOTT

Walker Cooper produced the winning tally on a single in the fourth. Bob Elliott added two more with a home run in the eighth.

The Dodgers scored a 3 to 1 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals in a "sort of crucial" series at Brooklyn. Southpaw Roe gave up only four hits. Brooklyn scored all of its runs in the first two innings. Roe struck out five, walked only one, and put the Dodgers in second place ahead of the Cards and just a game behind the Phils.

Rush of the Cubs topped the Giants 4 to 3 at New York. The Cubs collected all their runs on a pair of homers, each good for two tallies, by rookie Wayne Terwilliger and veteran Andy Pafko in the third. Rush gave the Giants only five hits.

Reynolds pitched the Yankees into first place with a five-hit 11 to 0 victory over the Browns at St. Louis. He struck out nine batters and let no Brownie batter get beyond first base. The Yankees scored eight runs in the eighth inning.

Dobson had things his way at Detroit where the Red Sox scored a 6 to 1 win in which Vern Stephens and Ted Williams each blasted two homers. Dobson permitted only six hits, topping Tiger ace Art Houtteman.

Wynn had an easy five-hit 15 to 4 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics at Cleveland. Larry Doby drove in six runs with a grand slam homer and a triple. The Indians collected 20 hits good for 31 bases.

Little Lloyd Hittle distinguished himself in relief for the Washington Senators, winning a 6 to 5 division at Chicago by driving in the winning run with a single. He pitched scoreless ball for five innings.

Tiremen Win In Ninth On Gunter's Pinch Blow

Douglas Tire put on a story-book finish in the ninth inning last night to earn an 8 to 7 win over Chinese Students and consolidate their hold on first place in the Senior A Softball League.

A pinch-hit single by Ken Gunter after two were out brought in Henry Harris from second base to break up what appeared to be a sure victory for the Students.

Tiremen went into the last half of the ninth on the short end of a 7 to 3 count and tail-end of the batting order coming up.

Chick Newman worked Jimmy Chan for a walk and Joe Bryant followed with a scratch bunt on a three and two pitch.

After Chan threw two balls to Toad Garnet, and manager Stan Tenning of the Students lifted him in favor of Gar Taylor. Taylor lost Garnet but struck out Bill Reynolds and Flori Goegan. He balked on his second delivery to Vic Dale and the runners advanced. Dale walked, and Harris pushed a single to centre field. Two wild pitches brought in Dale with the tying run. Then Gunter wrapped up the game with his clean single through the middle.

TO NO AVAIL

For Jimmy Chan it was a tough decision to lose. He and Joe Bryant hooked up in a tight pitcher's battle with each team only getting six hits. Bryant bumped into trouble in the first half of the ninth as the losers ran wild on the base paths to score four runs. Three straight sacrifice hits, two walks and a single, together with three Douglas Tire errors built up the 7 to 3 margin.

The Students infield came up with another sensational game with shortstop Don Robinson again being the standout. He blanketed his position, started two double-plays and made some uncanny stop of hard ground balls.

GET BREAKS

Douglas Tire, on the other hand, capitalized on the breaks. That old saying, "the ball game is never over until the last man is out," certainly proved so last night.

A tremendous home run by Dale in the eighth, and another long fly by Jimmy John that Goegan miscued, allowing John to complete the circuit, were the only plays up to the ninth that could have sent the game either way, and the highly partisan Chinese Student fans went home a little disillusioned as their favorites went down to defeat.

Tonight it will be Brentwood Aces against B.C. Forest Products in the battle for second place. Game time is 6.30 at Central Park.

Short score follows:

	R.	H.	E.
Chinese Students	7	6	3
Douglas Tire	8	6	6

Chan, Taylor (9) and Chow; Bryant and Harris.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—Who says an "independent minor league club" can't be operated profitably these days? How about the St. Louis Browns? That "minor" is kidding, of course, but its kidding on the square since for the last few years the Browns have been a "farm" for most of the other American League clubs . . . and with more than $1,000,000 in the till from player sales, they can afford to be independent as all getout.

CASH ON LINE

Taking the semi-official figures, here's how to acquire $1,000,000 merely by repeating firmly "a hunnert grand" every time a club owner comes around. The Browns collected $475,000 of Tom Yawkey's money, plus 10 players, in three deals with the Boston Red Sox. Vern Stephens and Jack Kramer brought $310,000; Al Zarilla $100,000 and Ellis Kinder and Bill Hitchcock $65,000. Four other $100,000 deals were Sam Zoldak to Cleveland, Gerry Priddy to Detroit, Fred Sanford and Roy Partee to New York and Bob Dillinger and Paul Lehner to Philadelphia. The Cleveland Indians gave up another $100,000 in three deals to get Johnny Berardino, Bob Muncrief and Red Embree. The small change was $25,000 from Washington for Sam Dente, a throw-in from the Red Sox, and $20,000 from the A's for Ray Coleman, who is back in the Brownie line-up. Only record of a cash outlay for these athletes was $25,000 paid for Priddy.

Duncan Star Works With Soccer Squad

Herman Henry, the stylish Duncan Native Sons fullback, who is one of the candidates for a berth on the Victoria team to meet the English touring squad here June 1, made his first appearance in last night's training session at Heywood Avenue. Henry has been on a holiday in the U.S.

Coach George Kulai is getting his men nicely into shape and the composition of the team is gradually being formed. Last night 19 of the candidates were in training—the best attendance yet.

Further training sessions are being held tonight and Thursday at Heywood Avenue.

Firing From Albert Head For Reserves This Year

Residents of Esquimalt who complained last summer of the boom-boom-boom of anti-aircraft guns during training exercises by reserve units at Work Point and Macaulay Plains will not be bothered this year. At least not to the same extent as heretofore.

An army spokesman said today reserve units will do all their firing from Albert Head, several miles south.

Meanwhile, the Royal Canadian School of Artillery at Work Point is busily preparing for the annual influx of part-time soldiers who spend their summer holidays in uniform.

Reservists of the 5th (B.C.) Coast Regt. of Victoria and of the 102nd Coast Regt., Vancouver, will be here from June 11 to 17. They will work from the forts in the Victoria area.

About 50 men are expected from the two artillery units.

On July 9, light anti-aircraft units from all over western Canada will converge on Victoria for two weeks' camp. About 200 men are expected.

When heavy ack-ack units arrive Aug. 6 for two weeks, also representing towns from west of the Great Lakes, there will be about 350 reservists in training.

Light and heavy anti-aircraft batteries will live under canvas at Albert Head.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

People sometimes say to me, "It's easy for you to play bridge. After all, you're a mathematician."

Actually, there is nothing in this. They might just as well say that I can play bridge because I live in Texas. Mind you, I have nothing to say against mathematicians or against my home state of Texas. I simply wish to point out that the mathematics in bridge is usually just a simple matter of counting up to 13.

For example, here is a hand that called for a little mathematics. As you will see, it was easy to play correctly.

West opened the jack of diamonds, and that suit was continued for three rounds. South pounced on the third diamond with the ten of hearts, noting with interest that West could not follow the suit. Because of this, it was clear that East had started with six diamonds.

South's next step was to draw three rounds of trumps, ending in the dummy. East followed to all three rounds of trumps, while West discarded on the third round of trumps. At this point, therefore, declarer knew that East had begun the hand with nine red cards and only four black ones.

The next step was to lead a spade from dummy, since the contract could be easy if East happened to hold the ace of spades. When South played the king of spades, West won with the ace and returned the jack of spades.

Since East followed suit on two rounds of spades, South knew that two of East's four black cards were spades. It was clear that he could not have more than two clubs in his hand. This meant that West had four clubs.

REST QUITE SIMPLE

This information made the rest quite simple. South led the ten of clubs to dummy's ace and returned the deuce of clubs to his king. East played his two small clubs on these tricks. South could then safely finesse through West for the jack of clubs. The finesse of the nine of clubs naturally held, and South was able to discard the losing spade on dummy's queen of clubs.

The play of this hand shows a little counting, but needed no mathematics beyond simple arithmetic. You have to be willing to think to play fine bridge, but your name doesn't have to be Albert Einstein!

New York Plane Takes Pictures; Is Held At Winnipeg

OTTAWA (CP)—A plane belonging to the New York Daily News has been impounded in Winnipeg because it had no authority to take photographs, C. P. Edwards, deputy minister for air in the Transport Department, reports.

The plane was reported flown by photographer Charles Hoff and pilot William Warner.

Mr. Edwards said under air regulations no foreign-registered plane is allowed to take photographs when flying over Canada without authority from the transport ministry.

Hoff in Winnipeg said he and Warner had photographed the fire at Rimouski, Que., last week without difficulty.

Warner said he knew nothing about the necessity of a permit.

HOLLYWOOD REVIEW

Tim Holt Protests Having To Don Pair Of 'City Shoes'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It took some doing, but they've got Tim Holt in a pair of city shoes.

The actor is walking around in a brand-new pair of Oxfords for his role as an immigration officer in "His Kind of Woman." He'd much rather be in cowboy boots.

"Wear 'em all the time," he remarked. "I'd rather take a beating than put on those civilian shoes. The only other time I couldn't wear them was when I was in the army," he recalled. "I thought I'd die until I got my boots back on."

This might create the impression that he favors western pictures, which is what he usually makes.

"I don't exactly prefer westerns," he said, "but I think they're more fun. You're outdoors and there's lots of action. Besides, I can make three westerns in the time they make the usual kind of picture."

Tim has been in the movies since 1924, when he was knee-high to his father, Jack Holt. When he isn't making films, he's usually out with his rodeo. He likes to show skeptics that cowboy stars actually can ride a horse.

AH, WOMEN!

Anne Baxter was disappointed when "A Letter To Four Wives" was cut down to three. She was supposed to play the fourth wife. Well, she finally got to do the role. In "All About Eve," she is an actress who performs in a play within the movie. The scene is from the script concerning the fourth wife.

Betty Hutton reportedly turned down the "Keystone Girl" because the part wasn't big enough. She was to play Mabel Normand in the film, which concern Canadian-born Mack Sennett. Insiders hope she doesn't expect all her parts to be as big as "Annie Get Your Gun."

"My Foolish Heart," the Samuel Goldwyn production now at the Royal Theatre, starring Dana Andrews and Susan Hayward, combines romantic comedy and emotional drama in the story of a wartime love affair and its bitter aftermath.

Dominion Theatre

Motion picture producers here and abroad lately have adopted the practice of making pictures at the actual locales of the stories. Newest example of this technique, from Britain, is "Tight Little Island" at the Dominion Theatre. It was filmed entirely on the Isle of Barra in the Outer Hebrides.

Plaza Theatre

Want to know how you too can get a glorious tour of Italy with pay? It's easy! All you have to do is become a movie star. Sounds fantastic, but that's exactly how Louis Hayward, Binnie Barnes and Alan Curtis, the stars of Film Classics' "The Pirates of Capri," now playing at the Plaza Theatre, got to see Italy and were paid to do it.

Russians Build Military Bases Near Alaska

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—It is reported here that the Russians appear to be moving military installations closer and closer to Alaska.

Travelers who rached here Tuesday from northern Alaska said Soviet authorities have been evacuating civilians from the Big Diomede Island by Bering Sea. This is taken to be a prelude to the arming of the island. It is only a mile from Little Diomede Island, which is owned by the United States.

The Little Diomede Island is the nearest Russian point to United States territory.

Recently it was reported that Eskimos from U.S. islands had been seized and detained by Russians and closely questioned about U.S. installations.

The travelers, who did not want their names disclosed, but who are considered here authoritative persons, said Soviet arming of the Big Diomede Island would be a serious menace to the U.S. line of defence into the Arctic and northern Alaska.

Search was started after the boy failed to return home, and the body was discovered underneath a dock.

The separate existence of the Royal Air Force dates back to April 1, 1918.

Books, Toy Ducks Used To Aid Speech Therapy

Former Vancouver Resident Finds New Ways To Make Afflicted Children Want To Talk

REGINA (BUP)—Speech therapist Dorothy Washington today checked her stock of suckers, straws, lipstick and quacking toy ducks and wondered which she would use next to teach someone how to talk.

Miss Washington, a one-time Vancouver resident, believes she may be the only fully-trained speech therapist in Canada. She worked for the Saskatchewan Mental Health Clinic at the Regina General Hospital.

Her patients include children stricken by cerebral palsy. Brain injuries suffered at birth leave seven of every 10 palsy victims with speech defects, which Miss Washington fights with such weapons as suckers, lipstick and picture books.

"The big thing is to make children want to talk," she said. "Picture books help us a lot."

She produced a book containing brightly colored pictures. A big red ball was so "life-like" it looked as if it would jump out of the book and bounce on the floor.

"The children love it," she said. "We show them the picture and keep saying 'ball, ball, ball.' We hope that one day when we open the book, the children will try to say the word by themselves."

Another picture showed a kitten. That was the therapist's cue to "meow, meow," hoping for a similar reaction from the children.

One of her most effective gadgets featured Donald Duck. The picture showed four or five Donalds tied together in a train. The refrain for this one, of course, was "quack, quack." But that was just the start.

In addition to the picture, Miss Washington had in her treasure-drawer a toy, exactly like the picture. After letting the children hold the toy, the therapist pulls the toy along the floor. To the children's great delight all the ducks "quack, quack."

Miss Washington found lipstick one of the best methods to teach children to close their lower lips. She put lipstick on her own upper lip, then in front of a mirror, closed her mouth, transferring some of the lipstick to the lower lip.

"Children think this is great fun—they try very hard to close their lips so the lipstick will be even." She didn't say whether girls were better at it than boys.

Encyclopedia Of Britain's Music Coming

By WILLIAM BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—A 30-volume encyclopedia of "British" music is under way, the first three volumes of which are scheduled to appear next year in conjunction with the 1951 Festival of Britain.

Announcement of the project was made jointly by the Royal Musical Association and the Arts Council, which is supporting it.

The work, which will be the first comprehensive reference authority of music in the British Isles, is to be called "Musica Britannica" and the London Times demurs.

"There is no such thing as British music," says its music critic in a special article, "any more than there is a British language. The main tradition of professional music, as of letters, in these islands, is English, while the folk music of Scotland, Wales and Ireland is rightly described as Scottish, Welsh and Irish music.

"'Musica Britannica,' however, covers with the decency of its Latin these internal stresses."

Much music composed in England during the 16th, 17th and 18th centuries is either unknown or inaccessible to the ordinary musician and much of it was never published. The ballad operas and broadside ballads of the 18th century are said to need consolidation into one convenient reference.

National Theatre

BOMBAY, India (CP)—An important step in the growth of the theatre movement in India was taken here recently when the national theatre centre was inaugurated. The centre will coordinate the activities of the various theatre movements in India.

Museum Guns Taken By Thief

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver has one of the best museums in Canada, but it's mostly in crates.

And, as the saying goes, you can't tell one item from another without a program, but there's no program.

Despite these handicaps, more than 1,000,000 adults and swarms of children clamber to the public library attic each year to browse around what is, in effect, an illustrated history text.

The only person to register disappointment recently was a youth who groused because the small-arms display had been removed. It was taken out because somebody cut the glass with a diamond and stole some guns.

The cramped attic holds only a fraction of the specimens owned by the city. The rest are crated in the basement.

Curator T. P. O. Menzies says there are more than 1,000,000 valuable items on hand, which could fill the entire library building.

To Go To Toronto For Purchases U.N. Furnishings

FORGOT FUNDS IN HIS BANK

PENCOED, Glam., Wales (CP) — Trevor Thomas, a milkman, owed the milk ($145.70) and was declared bankrupt. Then it was discovered he had £79 in the marketing board £47 bank that he did not know about. Said the registrar: "You're the only man I ever met who didn't know he had money in the bank."

Scottish Thrift?

FALKIRK, Scotland (CP) — Some Scots are not careful with their money. It was reported that a total of £101 ($313.10) in money has been recovered from garbage at the local disposal plant.

Mounties Look To Helicopters For Work In North

MONTREAL, Que. (BUP)—The Royal Canadian Mounted Police looked today to the Canadian aviation industry to supply helicopters that would aid police work in the rugged Canadian northland.

"We are definitely interested in getting helicopters," a spokesman for the Mounties said, "if we can buy them cheaply and if the cost of servicing the planes is low."

The R.C.M.P. operates seven aircraft: two Beachcraft, a Norseman, Grumman Goose, Stinson, Beaver and Cornell. Last year, the R.C.M.P. patroled more than 500,000 miles of northern Canada, mostly by aircraft.

R.C.M.P. Commissioner S. T. Wood recently sent eight observers to Montreal where the first Canadian-built helicopter was put through its paces at Dorval airport.

The observers said they were impressed not only by its performance but also by the manufacturers' claim that its price would be below that of U.S. helicopters, when full-scale production of helicopters in Canada was under way.

Officials of Inter-City Airlines, manufacturers of the plane, said they were unable to quote a price for the plane at the moment, "but it will definitely be below the $60,000 you have to pay for a similar plane in the United States."

R.C. Priesthood Grows In Britain

LONDON (CP) — Anglican clergy outnumber Roman Catholic priests by less than two to one in Britain, says the Southwark Record. Thirty-five years ago the proportion was six to one.

The Record, organ of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Southwark, recalled that the Archbishop of York, Most Rev. Cyril Garbett, had recently deplored the fact that Anglican clergy had declined in number from 25,000 in 1915 to 15,000 today.

The Record cited figures from the Catholic directory to show the growth of the Roman Catholic priesthood. In 1915 there were 4,000. This year the number is 8,500.

NEW TYPE ROADS MADE BY BRITISH

'Highways Made While You Wait' Could Be Latest Slogan Of Royal Engineers

LONDON (CP)—So now it's "roads made while you wait."

The British army's Royal Engineers" working with civilian industry, have come a long way from their Second World War dependency on United States heavy equipment.

The work has been done at the Military Engineering Experimental Establishment, nicknamed "Mexe," located at Christchurch, Hampshire.

A recent demonstration there unveiled the results, and a mile-a-day process of making roads of the heaviest classifications, over virtually any type of soil.

While the bulldozers, scrapers and graders are shifting the soil and preparing the road lay-out, scientists in a mobile laboratory analyze the soil's moisture and organic content. Cement, lime, certain chemicals and water then are spread over the cleared surface in proportions indicated by the tests.

A fourth piece of equipment, called a stabilizer, makes one passage over the projected roadway. Its revolving blades and teeth churn up and mix the chemicals, cement and soil, which a roller following behind them compounds into a solid mass.

Setting is almost immediate.

A three-ton vehicle, called by the specialists a "traffic simulator," then comes along. Its whirling arms vibrate and pound the road with the pressure that would be exerted by 10,000 three-ton trucks or 3,000 10-ton tanks a day.

Two weeks of that sort of testing have left such new-type roads unimpaired.

Roads built across county in this way are serviceable for the heaviest type of modern aircraft runways as well. They are harder than concrete, yet the soil a few inches away may sink a walking-stick.

Manitoba Adds Manufactures

WINNIPEG (BUP)—The Manitoba government is opposed to freight rate increases, but one of its departments admits today they may not be a bad idea after all.

In its annual report on the growth of industry in the province, the department of industry and commerce said freight rate increases were an important factor in the province's industrial development.

Higher rail rates made decentralization of certain industries "more attractive when local markets are adequate to absorb local production," the report said.

The report listed other factors as increased population in the west, larger regional markets, more skilled workers, Alberta oil and western Canada's manufacturing prospects.

The report showed manufacturing production value last year totaled $483,000,000, about 8 per cent above 1948, and 128 per cent above 1941. The province has approximately 1,600 manufacturing establishments.

The province's growing tourist industry brought $20,000,000 into Manitoba coffers, a 27 per cent increase over 1948, and the greatest advance of any province during the year.

Growing Wild

BARNET, Hertfordshire, Eng. (CP)—Two boys here appeared before the juvenile magistrates for being beyond the control of their parents. The clerk of the court asked the father his occupation. "Lion Tamer," he replied.

Venetian Grind

With victory in his grasp, a student garbed as a 19th century cyclist quenches his thirst as he approaches the end of a "grueling" 200-foot cycle race across the square in Venice, Italy. Thousands of Venetians joined university students in celebrating the traditional matriculation day.

Ailments Can Be Mental Says Scientist

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Asthmatic attacks and common colds often are caused by emotional stress, usually the outgrowth of mental conflict, according to Dr. Edward J. Carroll.

Dr. Carroll, professor of psychiatry at the University of Pittsburgh, explained to a symposium at Western Psychiatric Institute here that asthma is caused by sensitivity to a foreign matter, perhaps pollen, dust, or even food.

But the cause of an actual attack usually is an emotional factor, he said. Often it will be a disguised guilt complex or a mental conflict which has existed from childhood.

REPLACES CONSCIENCE

"The patient wants to do something, but is afraid," Dr. Carroll said. "If he does do it, he doesn't feel sorry or guilty, as folks normally do, but usually comes down with an asthmatic attack."

Thus, the doctor said, the asthma takes the place of a conscience. There is evidence, Dr. Carroll contended, that all allergies and even some common colds have this "double basis" in which both a tangible outside factor such as germs or allergens play strong roles alongside the intangible emotional factor.

Dr. Carroll said that case histories have shown that removal of the emotional factor will stop asthmatic attacks, even though the outside factor still exists. On the other hand a person desensitized against one allergen will quickly build up sensitivity to another one if the "emotional trigger" is not removed.

Safety-First Lesson On Children's Shoes

WITH PAPER FOR 60 YEARS

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man (CP)—John R. Bregazzi, 75-year-old Manx newspaper man, is celebrating his diamond jubilee as a reporter for the Isle of Man Times.

When Bregazzi began his career 60 years ago there were no typewriters or telephones to assist the reporter. For 50 years he was one of a team which reported verbatim the proceedings of the Manx Legislature.

Following the American Revolution, Loyalist settlers established the first settlements along the Canadian side of the Niagara River.

Marquis Runs Movie House

INVERARY, Scotland (Reuter)—The Marquis of Lorne, 12-year-old son and heir of the Duke of Argyll, is working Saturday evenings as manager and projectionist at his own movie theatre here.

Finding his pocket money would not run to the 26-mile coach trip to the nearest movie theatre at Lochgilpead, "Master Ian," as he is known in the town, persuaded his father to buy him a film projector.

He took a room at a local hotel and adapted it as a theatre with the help of friends.

Silent films, mostly old Chaplin comedies and westerns, have been drawing good houses, often as many as 90 people, including some adults. Profits go to the scout troop, of which the young marquis is a member.

Two Small Boys 'Hold Up' Train

GOLDEN PRAIRIE, Sask. (BUP)—Two small boys held up a train here in the best tradition of the rip-roarin' old west.

The youngsters, Brian Oater and Jim Wade, stood on the track pointing their toy guns at the train. When they refused to budge, the engineer had to bring his train to a jarring stop.

The "robbery" ended when the brakeman hopped from the train and lifted the boys off the track.

INSTALLMENT 33

When Louilie set down the tray beside her bed, Clemency awoke and sat up with a start.

Baba?"

"Nurse says she is still sleeping. She has had a wonderful night. Praise be to Allah, she will get well," said Louilie joyously. "The doctors both have gone."

"What time is it?" Clemency glanced at her clock. "Louilie! I should have been called before this!"

"No, Sitt. The Sidi Amberley's orders. And you are to eat your breakfast in bed."

Clemency sank back on her pillows, still drowsy from the effects of the sleeping tablets she had been given last night.

The sunlight flooded the room like a benediction—Baba was going to get well. And then she remembered why this heavy ache lay at her heart, why it would be worse before it ever ceased.

PROBLEM UNCHANGED

Nothing of what had happened during this last 48 hours had changed her own problem. She still had to give Piers back his ring, and tell him she was going away. It was useless to think things could ever be the same between them again—loving him so desperately only made them worse. She might forgive what he had done to her—but nothing could undo what he had done to Jon. What Syrie had made him do!

She clenched her hands until the nails dug into the palms. Last night when she came to bed she had wept, but the tears were out of her utter weariness, and her relief over Baba. Her own tragedy was too deep for tears.

Luncheon was over when at last she emerged from her room to go in search of Piers, but he did not seem to be anywhere about, and it was Syrie she found.

This morning only the shadows around Syrie's eyes which her makeup did not quite succeed in hiding, betrayed anything of what she had gone through. When Clemency found her, standing looking out on to the veranda, she appeared as exquisitely groomed as ever, in one of the thick white silk dresses she was so fond of, her shining hair piled high, lipstick and nail varnish perfectly matched.

How much real feeling is there in her? Clemency wondered with a bitterness that would not be repressed.

EMBARRASSED

When Syrie glanced around, and, seeing her, came back into the room, there was an embarrasment that was quite new in her manner.

"I was waiting for Piers," she said. "I think—he is with Jon."

It's dreadful to hate anybody after what we have all just been through, though Clemency. But the human heart has its passions, and there are limits to human endurance; it was perhaps a little unfair to blame herself.

She controlled her voice with an effort. "Then I will leave you. I was looking for him, but—what I have to say can wait."

But as she turned to go, Syrie spoke. "It's wonderful about Baba."

"Very wonderful."

"Jon and I are planning to take her to the sea as soon as she is well enough. Perhaps—over to Southern France. It's an ideal part of the world to live. And if I can get someone reliable to look after her—"

LOVE NEEDED

Though she tried to hide it, some of the surprise Clemency felt showed in her face. Then: "She will need a lot of love," she said. "She will be a long time getting better and convalescing, and—she is bound to get spoiled. I hope you will find someone who—loves her a lot."

"I shan't get anyone she loves as much as she loves you," said Syrie frankly. "Or who manages her as well." She paused and added after a moment: "You will think I am very impertinent if I ask you what you were waiting to say to Piers—"

Clemency felt herself freeze up. "If you don't mind, I would rather not discuss it."

"There is no need to," said Syrie. "Here is Piers, and—I think—I know he will have something to say to you." And then as Clemency moved swiftly towards the second exit from the room she exclaimed sharply: "Piers! Don't let Clemency go."

He reached out, and taking Clemency's arm, drew her back. And so she stood, Syrie facing her, Piers on the other side, her heart beating furiously, but determined to save herself the indignity of a further attempt to escape.

SOMETHING TO SAY

"Piers," Syrie told him, "you have something to tell Clemency."

"He has nothing to tell me that I don't already know," said Clemency.

"Oh yes, he has—a lot," Syrie assured her, and with her eyes on Piers: "Has Jon spoken to you?"

"Yes."

"Then tell Clemency the truth. You shouldn't have trusted me at all." Syrie shrugged. "I'm a born liar when it suits. Go on Piers. Tell her what I did to you and all the rest of it. She'll believe you now. Jon will have told you that I let her think what he said to her was true."

She turned her glance to Clemency's white, stricken face. "There's one truth I can tell. I loved Piers—I wouldn't have stopped at anything to make what I wanted you to believe come true. But he loathes me! I wanted to punish him for making me stay here. Months ago I made Jon believe what you believed. I suppose I wanted to punish Jon too.

"But something odd happened to me when Baba fell ill. I promised myself that if she got better, I'd tell the truth—make it all right between you and Piers."

As she spoke Clemency realized that Syrie Amberley was unchanged. She was not repentant, only keeping a bargain with Fate.

Girls' Pipe Band At U.S. Festival

The Victoria Girls' Pipe Band recently took second prize and stole the show over 17 other bands at the annual Forest Festival held at Shelton, Wash., according to John Worthington, trustee of the popular band who, with his wife accompanied them to the festival.

The band, headed by Thomas Chalmers, was the only one in the show playing bagpipes.

The major theme of the festival was "Keep Washington Green!" Special emphasis was placed on the value of the forest industries in that area.

"The band was certainly well received, and the hospitality extended was worth writing home about," said Mr. Worthington.

Lewis Denies Secret Orders

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis Tuesday declined to testify voluntarily to a House of Representatives labor sub-committee, but denied he had sent secret signals to miners during last winter's coal strike.

Chairman Andrew Jacobs (Dem.-Ind.) had asked Lewis to appear before the sub-committee tonight. He made public a letter from Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, turning down his invitation.

Jacobs called the hearings to investigate charges by Lloyd Sidener, president of a United Mine Workers' union local at Canton, Ill., that Lewis had sent secret orders to the miners to continue their strike although publicly calling on them to go back to work in compliance with a federal court's "stop strike" order.

"Mr. Sidener," Lewis wrote Jacobs, "is in error in his press quoted assertions that he received directly or indirectly any 'whistle stop' instructions from this office."

Cherry Tree Visitor

TOKYO (AP)—Yukio Ozaki, Japan's elder statesman, left by plane Tuesday to see Washington's cherry trees and chat, if he may, with President Truman. Ozaki, 92, who says his countrymen "don't understand democracy," gave the trees to United States when he was mayor of Tokyo.

UNCLE RAY

Some persons speak of football as a rough game, and perhaps it is, but there was a time when it was far worse. Back in 1900 the football players were gladiators of a sort!

The history of football is a long one, and I shall say only a few words about what it was like before the present century. The game grew out of a kicking contest on the order of modern soccer. Later came Rugby football, which gained its first foothold on this continent in Canada.

In rugby football, players were allowed to run with the ball. On a spring day in 1875, the McGill football team of Montreal paid a visit to Harvard, and a game took place. The McGill captain told the Harvard captain about rugby rules, and those rules were used in half of the game. The other half was under soccer rules.

The Harvard players liked the rugby rules, and taught them to the Yale team. Then the two famous American colleges worked together to make rugby rules standard in the United States.

By the year 1900, the running football game was played almost everywhere. There was, however, more importance to kicking than line-plunging. A kick from the field, over the goal line, counted five points, the same as a touchdown.

Changes in point scoring took place during the next 12 years. The value of a field goal was cut to four points, then to the present value of three points. The value of a touchdown was increased to six points, plus the extra point for a goal after touchdown.

In 1906 the rules were changed to allow forward passing. Strangely enough, the teams did very little forward passing until Notre Dame made successful use of that method of gaining ground during the 1913 season.

The Washington and Jefferson team of Pittsburgh is given credit for being first to place numbers on players. That was in 1908. The plan was dropped for a time by W. & J., but the University of Chicago numered its players in a game against Wisconsin five years later, and other colleges took it up after that.

By ART STOTT

THE NEXT TIME you start to introduce two acquaintances to one another, don't be too embarrassed if you can't remember the name of one of them. It happens all the time. Apart from taking some of these memory courses, there isn't anything you can do about it.

When it comes to names, I have trouble both ways. People get mine confused, I can't remember theirs. When you have a short, uncomplicated name, it shouldn't be hard on people you meet. It is though. They don't catch it the first time, and only one in a dozen will ask you to spell it out. Even when you do, they thing a "c" should be where a "t" is.

Take "Stott." It isn't fancy. It's plain and simple, but it's mine. Why should a fellow have to go through life explaining that he shouldn't be called "Scott," "Stout" or "Slott"? It hurts a man's pride.

THE TROUBLE grows worse when you work in an office with a fellow whose name is similar. The phone rings and you answer it. A voice at the other end starts telling you the background of some incident. You listen and make vague noises, hoping the voice will say something that you understand, something that will ring a little memory bell and give the conversation meaning. Finally you break down and say you're not following it. The voice registers surprise—that kind of surprise that seems to ask how stupid can you get. Then the query comes, "Isn't that Dave Stock?" So you go into an old explanation. Dave's in another department. Will you call the same number and ask for him by his first name?

There's some satisfaction in that. There are two Daves in the next department and 10 to 1 the voice will get the wrong one and the merry-go-round will start again.

THERE USED to be an old story in the newspaper business that a reporter could write a lot of things about a man and be forgiven. He might cast doubts on the man's honesty, suggest he was not quite bright, or even attack his family—all within the limits of the libel laws, of course. But if a reporter misspelled a man's name, there was no olive branch that could restore peace.

A young fellow in this business became pretty name conscious. He had to be. Even a kindly city editor could get a little acid where names were concerned. Early in his work a reporter learned to be explicit when it came to Smith and Jones.

YOU WONDER, though, why names are so important. It doesn't seem sensible to write about Beauchamps and then find that he's called "Beecham." It can be disconcerting, too, when you phone a Marjoribanks, ask if you have been connected with Marjory-Banks and be told that it's Marshbanks speaking. That's just one of the little Cholmondeley tricks the English throw in to fool you.

It's hard enough keeping straight on names that should be common in the country, or at least in the community. Now that we've gone internationally-minded, it sometimes seems hopeless. Nobody expected you to remember how to spell Premysl, that town on the eastern front in World War II. It was good enough if you learned to pronounce it "Shumsui." Then Bob Smyth came back from China and talked about Jong Guy Shack. After a while you realized he was speaking of the man you called Chiang Kai-shek. So you went along with the Jong Guy Shack pronunciation for a while, but you couldn't win. The conversation turned to Mao, and you chipped in with your idea of the man you called Mayo—as in the Rochester clinic. Somebody was bound to shout "Mow, please."

WHEN WE WERE young around Foul Bay — you pronounce that Gonzales now—an elderly Chinaman worked for a family in the district. It was a large family and the old gentleman couldn't remember the names of sons and daughters. He hit on a happy solution. They became No. 1 boy, No. 1 girl, No. 2 boy, No. 2 girl and so on. Seems a pretty satisfactory system.

In some of the private schools here, they've reduced the problem to simple terms. They have surnames only, Smith I, Smith II and Smith III—or if they're still clinging to the classics, Smith major and Smith minor. Sometimes its even Smith primus, secundus, tertius and down the line.

Don't worry too much about forgetting names. Don't be too annoyed if yours gets twisted occasionally. Think of the fellow who goes through life being Art Scott, Dave Stock, Bill Stout and A. K. Slott at different times. That's what you get for trying to be all things to all men.

Goldstream Salmon To Be Given Better Deal

Long-sought improvements to picturesque Goldstream for spawning salmon are in the offing.

Provincial parks officials said today a study will be made of the stream and there was little doubt that something would be done to reduce the death rate among the salmon struggling upstream to lay eggs in the fall.

Fish and game associations have been lobbying many years for more water in the stream to give the fish a better chance to reach the spawning grounds.

Up until a short time ago Goldstream Park came under jurisdiction of the city of Victoria. Then the provincial parks branch took over.

The provincial officials are planning a complete survey of the park this summer. Tenders will be called for operation of concessions. Buildings will be renovated. And general development is planned as funds become available.

On the improvements to the stream for the fish, the branch will work in close co-operation with fisheries and Greater Victoria Water Board officials.

The water board plays a major role in plans because the stream leads from the Goldstream watershed.

Delegates At Two-Day Convention

More than 100 delegates from all over the province today met at the K. of P. Hall, Cormorant Street, as the two-day annual session of the Right Worshipful Grand Orange Lodge of B.C. opened.

The current meeting, 13th to be held in this city since the lodge was organized in the province, marks the diamond jubilee of the group.

Delegates representing 48 lodges plus several lesser chapters.

Grand master J. H. Ferguson of North Vancouver said a number of resolutions would come before the convention Thursday.

The Ladies' Orange Benevolent Society is also meeting here, with more than 150 women attending sessions at the Windermere Hotel.

EVERYONE'S BEEN CALLING

Triple Tulips Not So Special, Says 'Scotty'

By BOB HUTCHISON

When "Scotty" McKay rolled himself and his "Rs" into the newsroom this morning he brought a little embarrassment with him. He carried in his hand a small bouquet of tulips. Now the girls in the social room are always glad to a get a nice bunch of flowers, so we thanked Scotty warmly. But when we looked at this bunch of tulips we found they were all on one stem.

"Ah just wantaed to show ye that thrrrrreee on a stem is nae so many," said Scotty. Even though this was the first tulip we had seen with five blooms on one stem, we had had reports of up to six. When we told Scotty this he wasn't too impressed. "Ah don't doubt it a minute. Ah didn't whant tae get in the paperrr, ah just wantaed to show ye that thrree on a stem is nae so special."

He didn't have to tell us. We had been getting calls from people every day since we put a picture in the paper of Mrs. H. F. Cooper's tulip with three blooms on one stem.

Scotty and his wife, Mrs. Angus McKay, 24 Olympia Avenue, are well qualified to talk about tulips. They have 300 different varieties in their garden. In the past 30 years Mr. and Mrs. McKay have won literally thousands of prizes for their flowers.

We won't be the least bit surprised if Scotty, or someone else, is back tomorrow with a bouquet of 10 tulips—all on one stem, of course.

Motorist Jailed, License Held

Convicted on a charge of being intoxicated while in control of a car, Alfred Smith, 2840 Burdick Avenue, was sentenced to seven days in jail and his license was suspended for six months by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today.

Evidence was that Smith's car was in collision with another on Fort Street between Duchess and Davie Streets on the afternoon of April 10 in which a woman was injured.

Winnipeg Convention Postponed By Legion

Greater Victoria's Canadian Legion branches were informed today of the postponement until September of the scheduled Dominion Legion convention in Winnipeg because of flood conditions there.

The Legion's Dominion Command said the branches would be notified as soon as the new convention dates were set.

Fined For Not Paying Hospital Insurance Fees

Two persons were fined in city police court today by Magistrate H. C. Hall for failing to pay their B.C. Hospital Insurance premiums on the due date.

They were George Clinton Heller, 948 View Street, and David G. White, 1721 Kings Road.

"It just slipped my mind," said White. He was fined the $10.50 amount of premium owing and an additional $5.

Heller said he was confused over the due date. He was fined the $16.50 amount of premium owing and an additional $5.

The alternative to payment was five days in jail.

Connection Asked With City Main

Permission to make an eight-inch connection to the city's water main at Hillside and Shelbourne was requested by Saanich in a letter received at City Hall today.

The connection was asked in order to improve the supply of water to residents in the Mayfair and Dean Heights areas and would be metered at Hillside and Shelbourne.

Saanich also asked permission to lay an eight-inch water main along Shelbourne from Hillside to North Dairy Road. If permission is granted the municipality will proceed with the work as soon as possible, J. B. Tribe, municipal clerk, wrote.

He said it was hoped to have installation completed in order to improve the supply during the summer months of this year.

Drinking In Cars To Get Ruling Here

Is a car a private place in which a person can have a drink without falling foul of the law?

This point of law will be argued before Mr. Justice H. S. Wood in Supreme Court Friday. His decision is expected to have widespread repercussions in British Columbia.

The case arose when Ford MacLeod was found guilty by Magistrate H. S. Bryant of drinking in his car parked outside a dance hall in Ladysmith.

Ronald F. MacIsaac of Nanaimo, counsel for MacLeod, told the judge in Supreme Court Chambers today the higher courts of the province had not yet ruled whether it was illegal to drink in a private car.

He said some magistrates followed a ruling of the Alberta Appeal Court that a car was not a public place. Other magistrates held that a car was a public conveyance and drinking in them was illegal, he said.

Mr. Justice Wood postponed hearing of the agreement at the request of Joseph McKenna, acting as Crown counsel.

"Tell me, Mr. McKenna," asked His Lordship, "what would you say about a man fishing in a rowboat and having a drink at the same time."

"I think it would be a very good place to drink," replied the lawyer.

Stubborn Nancy Wins Compromise

Magistrate Henry C. Hall came to a compromise agreement with a stubborn Nancy, Indian girl "problem child" in city police court today.

She persisted today in her stand that she did not wish to go to a home to be provided by a local organization to help steer her from the drink habit and also to further her education.

"No, I don't want to go. I want to stay with my uncle," she told the judge.

Magistrate Hall, who has sought several ways to rehabilitate his Indian problem children, said: "All right then, if I sentence you to the time you have already spent in jail on this charge will you go right out to your uncle?"

Nancy promised to do that.

STIFFER DRUNK DRIVING TERMS

Magistrate H. C. Hall today indicated more severe penalties for convictions on drunken driving would follow after disposal of those charges laid before he gave his warning late last month. At present, the sentence is seven days in jail and a six-month license suspension.

Deny Guilt In Warehouse Theft Case Last Week

Pleas of not guilty were entered by Allan Watson and William R. Cochrane, young Vancouver men, in city police court today to a joint charge of breaking and entering a warehouse and robbing it last week.

James P. Proudfoot appeared as counsel for both. His application for withdrawal of the earlier election of trial in a higher court in favor of a summary trial, was granted by Magistrate H. C. Hall. Case was remanded to May 23 either to proceed or set a day for trial.

Accused are alleged to have broken into the warehouse of the Vancouver Barge Transportation Ltd., at the foot of Fort Street, and stole a quantity of coffee.

Watson, 29, was arrested in the old Japanese tea gardens at the Gorge after police had put a guard near a cache of the stolen coffee. Cochrane, 25, was arrested the same night in the city after the police had combed the Gorge woods to no avail. Cochrane slipped away when Watson was grabbed by police.

New Film Features Local Indian Tribe

A new film, prepared by the B.C. Department of Education and dealing with the Salish tribe of Vancouver Island will be shown for the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society Friday evening at 8 in the Greater Victoria Arts Centre. There will be commentary with the film, which is entitled "Coast Salish."

The Senior Citizens' Campaign Council will meet next Tuesday evening at 8 in the council chamber at City Hall.

Rugged Country Increases Difficulties Of Officers

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer's call to Ottawa Tuesday night for 22 R.C.M.P. officers to assist 40 provincial policemen in the strife-ridden Doukhobor country was answered today.

A Canadian Press report from the national capital says Justice Minister Garson is sending the "Mounties" to the Kootenays from Alberta.

It is expected the 60 officers will be able to control the lawless Doukhobor fanatics who have been burning, blasting and parading in the nude for over a month in the current uprising.

There are approximately 30 extra B.C. officers working on the Doukhobor "case" now. Regular detachments in the area comprise about 10 men.

Need for additional men in the policing of the trouble districts was explained by B.C. Police Commissioner Roger Peachey. Because of the ruggedness of the country it was difficult to cover ground quickly. Outbreaks of lawlessness occurred in widely-scattered areas, too.

Request for the 20 R.C.M.P. officers is the result of a meeting late Tuesday of former provincial police commissioner John Shirras, head of special committee investigating recent Doukhobor activities, Commissioner Peachey and R.C.M.P. officer with Attorney-General Wismer.

HELPED IN 1924

It is not the first time the national law enforcement agency has been asked to assist in quelling Doukhobor uprisings. Twenty-three "Mounties" assisted in the trouble zone in 1949 spring fire and nude marches by the Doukhobors, and again in the fall 20 members of the R.C.M.P. gave assistance.

Meanwhile with more arrests being made the problem of jailing the Doukhobors is becoming more acute.

It is a provincial responsibility to look after the arrested persons until they come to trial and for a 30-day appeal period after conviction. Then the responsibility falls on the Dominion government if the arrested person is sentenced to the penitentiary.

Cost Thief More Than He Got

The person who was filching vegetables from the garden of Uyagar Singh, 723 Market Street, one night this week later found out it cost him a lot more than he got. The East Indian found a pair of glasses dropped by the thief.

Beans And Beets Arrive To Dress Up Dinner Tables

By PENNY SAVER

"Howdy doody, howdy doody, howdy do." Especially to the tasty green beans and full-of-vitamin beets that have recently dropped into town. These luscious green morsels have introduced themselves at 33 cents a pound, the beets (you'll use leaves and all as they are very tiny) at 13 pennies a generous bunch. The good book tells us that beet tops are just as chuck full of wild vitamins as our Pop-Eye favorite, spinach!

Making a first on the fruit parade are Valencia oranges, at 29 cents a dozen, the larger and riper ones, 39 and 49 cents. Winesaps, a rosy red apple, three pounds for 29 cents and Rome Beauties, three pounds for 25 cents.

On the local calendar, green leafy cabbage has bowed in and local spinach is supposed to be close on its trail. Cabbage will cost your 12 pennies per pound and local onions and radishes a nickel a bunch. Two pennies more buys you a bunch of fresh parsley. Also on the local product list are large white heads of cauliflower selling for 12 cents a pound.

* * *

Asparagus, bless their little green hearts, are down two pennies from last week at this time, priced at 25 cents a pound. Likewise little hothouse tomatoes, formerly 39 cents, have slipped quietly down to 27 cents.

Clerks will weigh you down with 10 pounds of new potatoes if you pay them 49 cents and new carrots too at two bunches for 21 cents.

Our California friends are sending us firm and healthy lemons, six for 19 cents, celery at 14 cents a pound . . . they tip the scales at about a pound-and-a-half each.

* * *

If you're treating the family to rhubarb pie, the cost of two pounds of the local plants is 11 cents . . . 15 cents entitles you to carry home two pounds of leeks . . . cooking onions (pass the Airwick, please) are two pounds for 17 cents . . . for your favorite cucumber sandwiches, with the mayonnaise on the top, the cukes are 29 cents each . . . green peppers still sit in their boxes at one pound for 49 cents.

My goodness, I am getting absent-minded, almost forgot the cantaloupes I saw selling for 25 cents each, this morning. May I say, too, they didn't look as if the A's had played two games of baseball with them before they had been dropped in price!

Author Speaks To Women's Press Club

Mrs. Floris McLaren, successful Victoria author, poet and radio script writer, was guest speaker at the May meeting of Victoria Women's Press Club, held Monday evening in Princess Louise Room, Empress Hotel.

Selecting as her subject, the wide and varied field to be found in writing for radio, Mrs. McLaren explained what was wanted in radio material is short stories, sketches and plays, both in format and length. She described various programs that are broadcast on the Dominion network, others on provincial networks, giving over-all and inspiring picture.

In conclusion the speaker warned her audience not to confine their output to radio alone.

"A radio presentation, no matter how good, is only heard once," she said. "You can't turn back the dial and check up on some point you have missed in your listening. The printed word on the other hand may be returned to again and again.

"Because of this one point I would suggest that while the medium of radio offers a ready field for those who can meet the needs, it is wise to also make contacts with magazines and periodicals.

"When you do this you are well on your way to moderate writing succes."

Mrs. McLaren was introduced by Mrs. Audrey St. Denys Johnson and thanked by Miss Florence Larinde.

Mrs. Marguerite Dalziel was named nominations officer for the annual meeting which will be held in June.

Flood Relief—A sum of $20 was voted to Manitoba Flood Relief Fund at a meeting of Mabel Burnett Circle, held at the home of Mrs. J. Smith, 1212 Lyle Street, and members are planning individual efforts to continue the work of assistance. A sum of $20 was also voted for the arthritis drive and it was announced a food parcel had been sent to England. Letter of thanks was read for donation to the Cancer Fund and it was announced that the tea in Douglas Room, Hudson's Bay Company store, postponed through a bereavement, will be held on June 20. Next meeting will be held on June 8 at the home of Mrs. T. Fulthorp, 447 Kingston Street.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It is possible for parents, who have some inner anxiety, to read abnormal meanings into a child's normal behavior. It would seem that the mother, in this case, has a "complex" about a relative which makes her overly anxious about her own child.

Mrs. F. L. S. writes: "My sister's six-year-old is, to all appearances, a healthy child, but he eats a very poor diet. He refuses all vegetables or anything new to him. He has never been sick and sleeps 11 or 12 hours of undisturbed sleep.

"But he is extremely nervous, even the television programs for children make him bite his nails. He doesn't like to go out on the street and play. The crying of his younger brother and sister make him so irritable that he avoids them when a quarrel arises. He is very bright and has a marvelous vocabulary but he is the most unhappy child and whines and cries for everything he wants or thinks he wants.

"His mother worries as his father's brother has some very effeminate characteristics and she fears that the things her son does are an early indication of mental disturbance."

Even if the uncle were effeminate it would not argue a mental disturbance and so it were better not to tie these two together. In all men there are some female qualities and in all women some male qualities. It is only when the female traits are predominant in the male or vice versa that it is unfortunate. Yet many carry on their prescribed roles in life, despite it.

The child should be happy. He should be courageous enough to enter into normal play with other children. Could it be that he is unhappy because he is jealous of the other children? Might the mother's own nervousness and tendency to worry have imbued him with the idea that there is danger in outdoor play? This was her first child and in the interest of safety she may have overdone the warnings and cautions.

If you feel that there is real evidence of the child's maladjustment (though the case you presented does not indicate it), then by all means take him to a child guidance clinic or a practising psychiatrist and have him evaluate the child's behavior and resolve his problems.

If he eats enough fruit he can get along without vegetables until such time as he "learns" to like them.

Our leaflet No. 5, "The First Six Weeks," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressede envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

OLD AGE SECURITY IMPORTANT

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. H. L. Luffman of Toronto today told the 10th annual meeting of the Dominion Women's Association Council of the United Church that security for old age is one of the most important domestic matters facing the nation today.

"It presents a challenge we cannot ignore," she said.

Mrs. Luffman told of a housing project under way in Vancouver which would provide homes for aged lay church people, some cottages of which will be ready for occupancy soon. The idea originated in the W.A. of Canadian Memorial Church and received the support of the British Columbia conference.

Membership in the W.A. totals 170,000, with 183 new life members this year.

Old Girls Name New Officers

About 70 members of St. Margaret's Old Girls' Association attended the annual meeting and luncheon held at the school Saturday when Mrs. Eric Quainton was elected president.

Other officers include Mrs. Vida Wilde, vice-president; Mrs. T. P. O'Grady, secretary; Miss Frances Price, treasurer; and Mesdames Ramsay, F. R. Nixon, and Felicity Graham, committee members.

Mrs. Arthur Ross presided and welcomed guests, many of whom came from out-of-town for the occasion.

Decorations were carried out in school colors, red and white, with bouquets of tulips and narcissus.

During the afternoon Mrs. Stuart S. Lefeaux presented the school with a book on behalf of the Vancouver branch.

Girls at the school presented a play, "Strange Road," which was enthusiastically received.

Her first visit to Victoria in nearly five years, Mrs. Trevor Thom has many friendships to renew. She is now making her home in Toronto with her husband. A brother, John, is also living in the Ontario city.

Returns Home After Four Years Service In London

One of a group of girls who left for England nearly five years ago with St. John Ambulance Voluntary Aid Detachment, slender, blue-eyed Muriel Uhthoff, now Mrs. Trevor Thom, is the last to return to Victoria.

The attractive city girl, who spent the past four-and-a-half years engaged in physio-therapy work in London hospitals, arrived last week to visit her mother, Mrs. Ina D. D. Uhthoff, 401 Constance Street.

At the end of the month she will return east to join her husband at their Toronto home.

They were married last July in Sussex, and spent their honeymoon in Paris. They came to Canada five months ago.

Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Thom wore the trim uniform of St. John Ambulance in centres throughout southern England.

Although she has worked side by side with English women and made countless friends, she declines to comment on the people or conditions in the British Isles, and with a shake of her sleek head tells you, "I've been there so long, I feel like one of them."

She will tell you, though, that one of her most interesting phases of work was in East Grinstead plastic surgery unit built by Canadians to care for Canadian wounded boys.

"The work accomplished in patching up boys with burnt and disfigured skins was simply marvelous," she states.

She speaks enthusiastically, too, of a reunion held in London last summer by ex-St. John workers.

"We had a real get-together," she tells you, and recalls that among Victoria representatives were Pat Fitzpatrick, Phoebe Hamilton and the former Moira Hacklett.

Mrs. Thom, attractively attired in a Black Watch tartan suit matched with navy blue accessories, for her interview yesterday afternoon, was reticent on topics of likes and dislikes of English women.

She did say, however, that most of the girls were well-dressed owing to the large scale manufacturing of utility clothing under government subsidy.

"Small but necessary articles, such as bobby pins, lipsticks and combs, are now returning in quantity to the markets," she adds.

Her memories of the past years in England are highlighted by glimpses of the Royal wedding of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh; scenes from many other state occasions dear to the hearts of English people; travels throughout southern England, and a trip to Paris.

Century-Old Lace Creates Interest At St. John's Guild Sunshine Tea

Spanning the arch of nearly two hundred years, a display of exquisite hand-made lace and embroidery, shown yesterday in the auditorium at St. John's Anglican Church, brought days when the art of needlework was an integral part of every woman's life, very close to the present.

The exhibit, belonging to Mrs. G. Exton Lloyd, widow of the late Bishop Lloyd, was shown in conjunction with a Sunshine Tea, sponsored by Ladies' Guild of the church.

Included among the rare old pieces was a real lace scarf and a grey silk shawl made in the year 1800; a French cambric handkerchief, 140 years old; an old English sampler and a charming hand-embroidered fischu.

There was a gold metallic ribbon bracelet made in 1790; dainty embroidered cambric sleeves and a lady's French cambric dress, made in 1800 and hand embroidered in an all-over fleu de lis pattern, also a little girl's dressing gown of fine cambric.

Mrs. H. Stavert, guild president, with Mrs. George Biddle and Mrs. W. A. Patterson, received guests in the main auditorium decorated with attractive arrangements of red and yellow tulips and purple iris. Mrs. P. Nowell Johnson was in charge of door receipts.

Afternoon tea was served from a table centred with tulips and narcissi. Mrs. M. C. Youdall, Mrs. R. A. Bell, Mrs. Patterson and Miss A. F. Giles presided at the urns.

Tea arrangements were convened by Mrs. G. W. Pierce and Mrs. F. W. Taylor, assisted by Mesdames M. McIntosh, S. Crawford, C. L. Mudge, F. C. Pollard, A. H. Farmer, Fuller, Greville Jones, F. Chubb and G. Smith.

Mrs. W. H. Wells and Mrs. T. C. Swannell were in the kitchen. Home cooking was in charge of Mesdames M. P. Biggs, C. O. Smith and G. C. James; fancy work, Mesdames S. E. Wilson, C. A. Michell, Sands, and Miss H. Duke.

A sum of approximately $300 was realized.

Whipped Cream — Ladle a spoonful on ox tail, tomato or black bean soups.

Mrs. Douglas Patterson, left, models the only piece not in the Lloyd display, a delicate handmade lace wedding gown, 125 years old, owned by Mrs. E. R. Dickinson. Mrs. John McIllree wears a fine cambric dressing gown made in 1790 and a real lace cap from the days of 1810. Mrs. S. H. Brake and Mrs. L. Hopkins were in charge of the display.

W. J. Mitchell Claims Nurse For Bride In Mainland Rites

The groom's parents and the bride's aunt crossed to Vancouver to attend the marriage of William James Mitchell, and Marcia Sindrey Davis, R.N., on May 6, in Christ Church Cathedral.

Dean Cecil Swanson officiated at the ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Davis of Vancouver, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. H. Mitchell, 1207 Carlisle Avenue.

The newlyweds will make their home in Vancouver where the groom is taking pre-med at University of British Columbia.

The bride, niece of Mrs. T. Warder of this city, wore a regal gown of eggshell slipper satin cut on princess lines. Her full-length veil of embroidered net cascaded from a coronet of pearls. Her flowers were white gardenias, carnations valley lilies and stephanotis.

Miss Peggy Mitchell, as maid of honor, wore a turquoise frock and carried pale yellow roses and cream tulips. Similar flowers decked her hair.

Miss Jean Cann and Miss Kay Fidler, as bridesmaids, chose matching orchid frocks, and their old-fashioned bouquets were of roses and carnations.

Kenneth G. Mitchell was best man for his brother, and ushers were Eugene J. deHart Jr., and Samuel Levis.

A reception followed in the Devonshire Hotel where E. J. deHart proposed a toast to the bride.

Leaving for a honeymoon in California, the bride wore an imported grey suit with matching accessories and furs.

Mrs. Tavely will also sing two songs in the Norwegian language. Chairman of the affair is Mrs. E. Moeskau, assisted by lodge president, H. Simonsen.

Toastmistress Table Topics Result In Unique Salutations To Flowers

Mrs. Helen Simpson's request to members of the Victoria Toastmistress Club, to propose a toast to certain flowers resulted in a novel and engaging table topic at the club meeting Monday evening.

Subsequent toasts to a dandelion, forget-me-not, pansy, daisy and a bleeding heart were delightfully refreshing and afforded practice to members in this important phase of speechcraft.

Impromptu speeches played an important part in the program arranged by Mrs. Emerson Smith, toastmistress for the evening.

Mrs. Mary Campbell, general critic, awarded the oscar for best speech to Miss Margaret Harness for her two-minute impromptu talk on "Monday, Washday," and the spur for most improvement to Miss Gloria John, who gave an interesting talk on her proposed trip to Della Falls, entitled "What I would like best to do this summer."

Another two-minute impromptu was given by Mrs. Jean Downey who spoke on "Musical Festivals," and a five-minute prepared address by Mrs. Audrey Thompsett, "Mother's Day."

Members received instruction on the making of motions, points of privilege and precedents, in the lesson prepared by Mrs. P. Raymont.

Officers for next season were elected at the meeting and will be installed at the annual club banquet to be held on June 3. Members were reminded of a speech contest at the next meeting, May 29, when a trophy will be awarded to the person making the best three-minute speech. Judging will be based on length of training as well as ability.

Mainland Branch To Visit Queen Alexandra Solarium

Members of Queen Alexandra Solarium Junior League are preparing for a visit of Vancouver Thetis Chapter, a branch of the league.

Mrs. C. H. Miller, in charge of arrangements, announced that the Vancouver branch will visit the solarium on May 28 having chartered a plane at their own expense. Resident administrator at the solarium, Mr. Moore, visited the meeting and outlined reasons why the solarium should be closer to the city.

Members decided to postpone the concert of the Victoria Philharmonic, under their sponsorship, until the fall, as the Victoria Symphony is holding a concert in June.

Mrs. W. Fraser noted that $266.53 was realized at the B.C. Products Fair from the wishing well and other means, and Mrs. E. Davis stated that $145.36 was made at Langford races.

Annual Shower of Dimes netted $19,863.93, including contributions from Thetis Chapter, Mrs. H. B. McClung reported.

Plans were made for the annual dinner June 23 at Colwood Golf Club. Mrs. D. R. Monk is convener.

The work of the I.O.D.E. in two world wars amounted to an $11,000,000 war effort. Contributions in the first conflict totalled $5,000,000, and in the second, $6,000,000. Already in the four year since the last war the order has contributed $1,000,000 toward ironing out the postwar wrinkles.

If the woman next door wears a blue bar "1939" on her I.O.D.E. badge, you don't have to ask to know that her husband was an active service in the last war. A red bar will tell you that her son was in the navy, army or air force. If she wears a white bar it means a daughter was in one of the women's services.

DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix: I am a young woman 22 years old. Have been happily married for nearly two years to a wonderful husband and am the proud mother of a five-month-old daughter. I do not wish to complain, but since the baby has arrived my life is growing less interesting day by day. My whole time is occupied with washing, mending, darning, taking care of the baby. My husband refuses to take me out. He thinks no one else can watch over the baby but us. Am I being selfish in wanting to get away from the routine of housework and baby-tending once in a while? KIT.

Answer: You are not being selfish. You are simply being rational in trying to save yourself from becoming a nervous wreck. For that is what will happen to you if you don't have something to break the monotony of your life, some change and diversion that would give you something new to think about.

If your husband knows what is good for him he will make it a rule to step out with you one or two evenings every week just as a matter of self-protection, even if he isn't interested in keeping you happy and contented.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Pasteurization Safer But Reduces Vitamins

Cow's milk is one of the best foods for human consumption. Such questions as the following are, therefore, highly intelligent:

Q—I use certified raw milk and wandered if I were taking a risk of exposing my family to diseases like undulant fever and tuberculosis I have been led to believe that heating milk by pasteurization destroys much of the food value. L.V.S.

A—Certified milk comes from cows which have been carefully inspected for disease and which has been collected, bottled, and distributed with the greatest possible care. Assuming that the inspection services have been good and are carried out frequently enough, such milk must be considered as relatively safe.

Heating milk as is done in pasteurization does not destroy much of the food value nor does it change the taste very much. It does kill germs which may be present and it does decrease the vitamin content slightly. From the safety standpoint pasteurized milk is better; from the taste standpoint and vitamin content, certified milk is the superior.

Q—Will leukoplakia in the mouth cause cancer?

A—If leukoplakia of the mouth is long-continued, cancer often develops at the same point.

Q—Would you please tell me if beer and tobacco are harmful to the heart and kidneys? Mrs. R.L.

A—Beer places an extra burden on the kidneys and because of the extra pumping involved, on the heart as well. There is a doubt as to the direct effect of tobacco on the heart, but I do not know of any reason why is should be considered harmful to the kidneys.

Q—Is is true that the continual use of hair dye will cause one's hair to thin or fall off? T.R.

A—Most effective hair dyes contain chemicals to which a few people are sensitive even though most are not. It is therefore possible that a hair dye would cause loss of hair in a person who was sensitive to one of the chemical ingredients.

Q—Is mineral oil taken for a spastic colon harmful? A.G.

Saskatchewan Airways Serve Big Northern Area

Planes Visiting All Settlements Carry Numerous Parties On Varied Missions

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—Since its inauguration Aug. 15, 1947, the Saskatchewan Government Airways has grown from a couple of small planes on forest patrol work to 17 aircraft serving every settlement in the northern section of the province.

The airways' energetic manager, Floyd Glass, said it was realized that if the north was going to develop at all, residents had to have faster means of travel than just canoe or dog team. The government airways provided that service by operating scheduled flights on four routes to every settlement.

CHARTER FLIGHTS

Government business is only a small part of the airways' operations. It is licensed by the Air Transport Board for charter service from bases at Prince Albert, La Ronge and Goldfields. Any one of the scheduled flights may be interrupted at a licensed base for the plane to take men and freight of all kinds to the most inaccessible spots.

It has been known for a flight to take a prospecting party clear across the Barren Lands almost to the Arctic Ocean.

When Mr. Glass first took off in his plane to plan the routes and the service, he had no radio and actually was going into the unknown. Today, he has a group of former R.C.A.F. pilots and engineers under his control whose equal for the work they do "can't be found anywhere."

The pilots are called upon to take up any of the aircraft—a Norseman, Beaver, Stinson or Canso—and not one plane has yet been involved in a serious accident.

In addition to flying passengers, mail and freight into the various settlements, they engage in forest patrol work, aerial photography and fisheries work. They also fly in supplies for schools, hospitals and transport officials.

The government airways, in addition to its flying activities, operates here the only commercial aircraft overhaul shops between Winnipeg and Edmonton. The shops can handle aircraft engines up to 900 horsepower and can build airframes up to 20,000 pounds. Planes from Churchill and other northern Manitoba points Waterways and northern Alberta come to the Prince Albert shop for overhaul and repair.

The airways also are a boon to the tourist trade. Fishing and hunting parties are continually being flown into northern areas, adding many tourist dollars to the province's coffers.

Tighten Rules For Occupancy Of N.Z. Homes

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP) — The New Zealand government has ruled that only families whose annual income is less than $1,600 may occupy state-owned houses in future.

Rents for the 32,500 houses have been raised by about $1 to $2 a week.

The National Party government had previously announced that tenants will be permitted to buy the houses. Under the former Labor government which built the houses, tenants were not permitted to purchase their homes.

New rentals will be about $5 to $5.50 a week for four-room houses and $5.75 for five-room homes. Rents for privately-constructed homes of the same standard are about twice these figures.

The $1,600 top income figure for tenants does not eliminate as many families as it would in Canada, as incomes—and living costs—are considerably lower in this country.

The houses, which have been built throughout the country under a scheme inaugurated by the Labor government in 1937, were financed by loans from the Reserve Bank at an extremely low rate of interest.

Although the houses occupy whole suburbs in some cases, they were built of different designs so that no two in the same vicinity are exactly alike.

Modern in design and equipped with the latest labor-saving devices, they compare favorably with the latest small homes built by private interests. Each is set on an individual lot.

AUSSIE SHEEP WORKERS ASK BIG PAY INCREASE

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Sixty thousand workers in Australian agriculture want their share of the unprecedented prosperity the industry is enjoying.

In the first nine months of this season Australian sheep-farmers sold £225,000,000 ($562,500,000) worth of wool to overseas countries— £30,000,000 more than the whole of last season, itself an all-time record.

Graziers who before the war were happy to get £30 a bale (330 lbs.) now think themselves unfortunate if they get less than £80. Sheep in full wool are selling as high as £7 a head. Before the war £1 was a good price and in droughts sheep have been sold as low as sixpence a head.

Last month the Australian Workers' Union — the biggest union in the country—applied to the arbitration court for an increase in pay rates.

It said the industry had never been so prosperous and asked:

£7 10s. for every 100 sheep shorn for shearers. Present rate is about £3 10s. and a good shearer can average 125 sheep a day.

£21 12s. 6d. a week for shed hands. Present rate about £12 a week.

£23 a week for pressers. Present rate about £15. Wool pressers press the wool into jute bales — a strenuous but not highly-skilled job.

£24 8s. 6d. a week for shearers' cooks. Present rate about £18 a week. A shearers' cook does all the cooking for the men working in the shed.

In a separate claim, wool-classers—the experts who grade the wool—are asking up to £35 a week.

None of these claims has yet been decided.

The claims are high compared with the average Australian wage of about £8 10s. a week for unskilled workers. Even so, graziers are concerned that young men are not entering the trade—a trade on which, as they point out, Australia's prosperity has depended for years.

Reds Not Banned But Debate Wide

Talk Often Heard Among M.P.'s As Fresh Angles Come Into View

By GORDON E. LEIGHTON, Times Ottawa Representative

OTTAWA—Given a Red Dean, a James Endicott, a few riotous visitors to the House of Commons and you have all the components of a conflagration.

Get them together and the outbreak it certain.

Of course, the "Red" brand of Communism was bound to be attacked sooner or later. Before the session of Parliament opened some members were primed to start an offensive thereon. Recent incidents furnished the powder and the long-awaited explosion has followed.

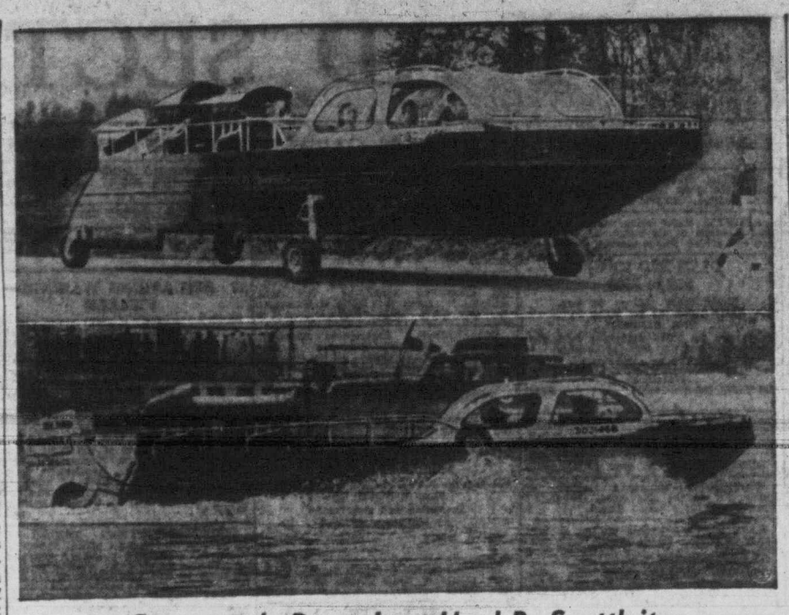
For Communism every member of the Houses of Parliament, we are assured, has a hate that exceeds all hates. But on remedies they are divided. Stamp out, jail, repatriate, exile, effect a spiritual conversion—all these have been advocated, but when the fire of oratory has died away the present practice of watchful tolerance remains undisturbed.

Our laws are adequate to most speakers who despise Communism and all its works. They differ on the extent to which they should be enforced. Fiery antagonists would prosecute at the least opportunity. "Let us wait," say the others. "At present our internal foes do us no harm and it is better we see them and what they do than drive them to dives and desperation."

Of the two the latter course, the generally accepted one of historical proof, has been favored as more valuable. The example of Australia in legislating to ban the Communists, the probable similar action of other Commonwealth members furnish texts for the strong views of the more hostile of our legislators. But there is no problem here of the dimensions in those countries that are moved to bans and outlaw measures. So it has been stated and so was the House of Commons minded when, at length, the question was shelved by vote for the balance of this session at least.

Still in the halls and corridors the problem echoes. By what process of mentality can one play traitor to his land and people to laud and proselytise for a strange, lesser-favored and lower standarded country and its horde? That is the amazing conundrum to which no one professes to know the answer, except to ascribe it to a twisted and warped mind endowed by evil.

For Communism as such, there is not so much venom, but for that type which expresses itself in what Secretary of State Pearson calls Soviet Imperialism the House has shown this week there is no shred of favor in any corner.



Commuter's Dreamboat Used By Seattleites

When Tony Sulak of Seattle and his family want to go to their summer place on Spieden Island they drive their Island Commuter over to Puget Sound, drive in and just keep going. The 32-foot vessel, built by Sulak at a cost of $24,000, is powered by two engine-driven airplane propellers mounted topside in the stern. The Commuter is seen in lower picture on test run in Lake Washington.

Urge Veterans To Apply For Their Medals

OTTAWA (BUP)—Government officials complained today that World War II veterans who earned only one or two medals were too modest to apply for them.

The hardened campaigner who saw action in many battles hurried to submit his application when distribution of medals started last Oct. 1, Department of Veterans' Affairs officials said. But the veteran who never got past the rookie stage appeared reluctant to claim his awards.

Some 75 per cent of the veterans who earned five or more medals had applied, but only 10 per cent of one-medal winners, had gone to the trouble of writing the department.

After nearly eight months of distribution only 430,000 sets of medals, less than half the total number, have been sent out, officials said.

The awards were now going out at the rate of 300 a day. During November and January a peak of 6,000 a day was hit. Mailing was stopped during December to help the Post Office Department, overworked by the Christmas rush.

FAST SERVICE

The officials urge veterans to fill in an application blank at any post office and mail it in. There is no backlog, they said, allowing them to give fast service.

The awards range from the War Medal, which went to every veteran with 28 days' service, to the Burma Star, earned by comparatively few Canadians.

Mose army veterans were eligible for five awards: The War Medal, the Canadian Volunteeer Service Medal, the Defence of Britain Medal, the 1939-45 Star, the France-Germany Star and/or the Italy Star.

VIDEO ONLY GRADUALLY CHANGES PEOPLE'S LIVES

NEW YORK (AP)—A veteran of the industry, who has been through it all before, predicts the United States will take television in stride as it did radio.

Isidor Goldberg, in the business since the cat's whisker, dots-and-dashes era, recalls that many dire predictions were made for radio as they are being made for television — about possible harmful effects and how this and that business would be ruined.

"When radio first came out, there were forecasts that it would revolutionize our lives—and it did—but the people took it in stride," says Goldberg, president of Pilot Radio Corporation.

It looks as if television will be the same way, he says. It may greatly change our daily lives but will do it so gradually we'll be almost unaware of the effect. It may, he says, actually have a few harmful effects on some other industries or businesses before it finds its level in the economy—but the over-all final effects will be overwhelmingly for the good.

Goldberg recalls that it was feared the phonograph record business would be killed by radio, but instead it boomed to greater heights than it ever reached in pre-radio days.

He foresees television having beneficial rather than harmful effects on such things as the stage and concert hall. He declares it may hurt attendance at neighborhood movie houses, particularly for class B pictures, but that it also may create new demand for many products and, among other things, make folks more conscious of their home furnishings.

Volunteers Run Radio Station

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (BUP) — Everyone from the housewife to the sheriff takes a hand in running this northern community's new radio station.

CFYK, which recently went on the air, was organized and is operated entirely by volunteers from the community.

Equipped and serviced by members of the Canadian Army Service Corps, the station was started as a booster unit for national networks.

Residents of the town, however, took such pride in the station that it was soon devoting much of its air time to local talent.

Gandhi Memorial

LONDON (CP) — Europe will have its first memorial to Mahatma Gandhi when the new Indian Students' Union hostel building is completed on Fitzroy Street, London, in the area marked for university residential halls. The memorial will take the form of an assembly hall with a seating capacity for 400.

To consider Fir Plywood in your building program. Years of research and practical tests that plywood is stronger, holds nails better, is more windproof, more weatherproof and more economical than ordinary building boards. . . . Think too . . . how much quicker and easier just to lift giant size panels in place . . . all weather too, withstands rain and heat.
CEMENT FORMS—Use ¾-inch exterior sheathing, have smooth straight concrete walls, then re-use it on subfloors. 4 ft. x 8 ft., each $5.28.
WALLS AND PARTITIONS—Use 5/16-inch exterior sheathing, ready ruled both sides, shows you just where to nail. 4 ft. x 8 ft. sheets, $2.56.
ROOFS—Under cedar shingles or asphalt, holds nails better than shiplap, shingles can be cemented right away without delay. 4 ft. x 8 ft. sheets, each $2.04.

Best of all, lower costs. 4 ft. x 8 ft. fibrerock, in full 1-inch thick, No. 1 grade, per 100 sq. ft., only $11.00. In addition a limited number of No. 2 grade, in the above sizes, for only $9.50 per 100 sq. ft., and in 2 ft. x 4 ft., No. 1 grade, the price is only $9.50 per 100 sq. ft.

MARKET REVIEW

Weakness Overcome At Toronto

TORONTO — Prices firmed from early weakness on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Opening trends pointed lower but mild support appeared in mid-session, and market leaders slowly pushed into plus territory.

MONTREAL — Stocks were mixed in active trading near the final hour on the Montreal Stock Exchange and Curb Market. Gains and losses continued to be small fractions.

Brazil Warns Canada Europeans Creep Up On Dominion's Trade

NEW YORK (CP)—Canadian and U.S. business men have received a warning and an invitation from Brazil, which has taken the lead in developing trade between North and South America.

The warning is that European suppliers—notably Britain and Western Germany—are creeping up on their business rivals in the provision of Brazilian imports.

The invitation is to step into the Brazilian market with investment and heavier purchases.

Canada now buys more from Brazil than she sells, but some Brazilian trade officials say that Canada could import even more, and save herself United States dollars by doing so.

"We should develop more direct relations with Canada," one official told the Canadian Press. "A lot of what Canada consumes is handled first by the United States, which makes it more expensive for the Canadian consumer."

In addition to coffee and cocoa, Brazil has available for export large quantities of vegetable oils and fibres and minerals such as mica and rock crystals. Her spokesmen contend Canada could process these products just as efficiently as the U.S.

Canada's main exports to Brazil are heavy machinery and parts, fish and newsprint. The U.S. still holds the position of main supplier which it built up during the war, but its share of the Brazilian market has slumped to 42 per cent compared with 61 per cent six years ago.

"With European competitors slowly regaining the status they held before the war, which is an essentially sound tendency, it appears that an approach adapted to changed conditions may be necessary for United States traders," Jose Garrido-Torres, director of the Brazilian government trade bureau here, recently told reporters.

Trial of Alfred C. H. Price, 1127 Oscar Street, on a careless driving charge, was set for May 23 in city police court today. Counsel Lloyd McKenzie entered a plea of not guilty to the charge.

Deny Ringers From B.C. On Boxing Cards

VANCOUVER (CP)—Secretary Jack Henderson told the Vancouver Athletic Commission Tuesday that city fighters have appeared on Seattle boxing cards under assumed names. Identity of the alleged "ringers" was not given.

Members voted to co-operate with the Washington State Athletic Commission in investigating the report.

SEATTLE (AP) — Dr. Leslie Simkins, chairman of the state athletic commission, said today he had heard nothing about reported Canadian "ringers" on Seattle boxing cards.

A story from Vancouver said fighters from that city had appeared here under assumed names. Tuesday night's card, the only one this month, listed no Canadian fighters.

The chairman said the identities of touring American fighters could be checked easily through the national association.

"It's not so easy with Canadians," he said. "They apply for a license when they come in for a fight. We can't play detective and check every one."

No Americans In Golf Final

NEWCASTLE, Northern Ireland (CP)—Two women—one from Scotland and the other from France—today won their way into the final round of the British Women's Golf Championship.

Mrs. George Valentine of Scotland and Vicomtesse de Saint Saveur of France will contest the 36-hold final round tomorrow.

The Victomtesse today defeated Judith Percy of Australia 2 and 1. . Mrs. Valentine, a former titleholder, won by 5 and 3 over Elizabeth Price of England.

Earlier, the last United States player was eliminated when Dorothy Kielty of Los Angeles fell before the Vicomtesse 1 up, in a quarter-final match.

Create Board On Fire Relief Fund

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent announced today in the Commons that the federal and Quebec governments have decided to establish a commission that will report on the financial assistance needed by those affected by the recent disastrous fires in Rimouski and Cabano.

Brig. A. Theriault of Quebec will represent the federal government on the commission. The Quebec representative will be Edouard Laurent of the Provincial Treasurer's department.

FRENCH CLAIM SOVIET KEEPS MANY P.O.W.'S

Countercharge Made To Russian Plea For Return Of Soviets

PARIS (UP)—A Foreign Office spokesman rejected today a Russian claim that all French prisoners of war in the Soviet had been repatriated.

"According to the latest information we have, there are still French citizens in the Soviet Union," the spokesman said. He did not give a number.

Russia charged that though she had returned all Frenchmen to France, France was preventing 20,000 Soviet citizens from returning to Russia.

The spokesman said this charge stemmed from a question of "definition."

The Russians consider all those displaced persons from countries taken over by the Soviet Union to be Soviet citizens, while France considers that they are not if they have not requested Soviet passports," he said.

The spokesman said the "Russians" included citizens of the former Baltic states, Poles and some Armenians.

The Frenchmen still in Russia, he said, are Alsace-Lorrainers conscripted into the German army and captured on the Russian front.

12 Workers Of U.A.W. Quit In Protest

TOLEDO, O. (AP)—Local 12 of the United Automobile Workers' Union (C.I.O.) had a strike of its own employees on its hands today.

Twelve girls, who are members of the local and employees in its dues collection office, walked out.

They went out against what they termed "the domination of Richard Gosser," Toledo, international vice-president.

In a statement, the union asserted they quit their jobs. The local refused to recognize the action as a strike, and said the girls' jobs would be filled by others.

The girls who walked out appointed as their spokesman a four-member committee which declared:

1. Dues collection office workers were not permitted to vote on strike assessments they were asked to contribute.

2. Gosser and his staff interfered with the routine operation of the dues-collection office and put in "scabs" after the strike was called.

Course In Writing

VANCOUVER (CP) — Phillip Freund, Vancouver-born author, will supervise a course in creative writing this summer at the University of British Columbia, it was announced today. Mr. Freund, a lecturer at New York's Hunter College and at Cornell, will supervise from July 3 to Aug. 7.

TEMBLORS RECORDED HERE

2 Heavy Earthquakes Shake Main Jap Island Of Honshu

Two exceptionally heavy earthquakes—one described as the largest anywhere in the world since last February—shook Japan today.

The tremors were recorded at observatories up and down the North American Pacific Coast, including the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory on Little Saanich Mountain.

In Bellingham, Wash., the first 'quake was actually felt. Windows shook and dishes rattled.

Dr. Charles F. Ritcher of the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena, said both shocks were centred in the vicinity of Honshu, main Japanese island.

The first earthquake was registered at the Saanichton observatory at 11.34:56 Pacific Standard Time Tuesday night and the second at 3.57:11, P.S.T. this morning.

NO BIG FLOOD, INDIAN SAYS

VANCOUVER (CP) — An Indian chief today told Fraser Valley farmers to stop worrying.

There will be no floods this year in the valley, said Chief Narcisse B. George of the Inkameep Indian Reserve in the Okanagan Valley.

"What melts in the daytime is frozen at nights," said the chief, "and as long as that keeps up there will be no big floods this year."

Famous Grads Of Edmonton To Be Reunited

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Grads, the team that dominated women's basketball from 1922 to 1940, will be back together in Edmonton next month for a four-day reunion.

Plans were announced today for a banquet and other functions for the team starting on the anniversary of the club's founding, June 15, 1915.

Nearly all the 35 former members of the team and their coach, Percy Page of Edmonton, are expected here for the gathering, although their homes now are scattered across Canada and the United States.

The Grads were disbanded in 1940 when still world champions. A reunion was planned for 1945, but postponed due to the war until 1947, when all put four former members of the team attended.

During the 25 years the team existed, it traveled more than 100,000 miles, played 522 official games and won 502. They played in four Olympic Games competitions losing a single game.

Naval, Air Force Huts To House Terrorists

Plans to imprison Doukhobor terrorists at Comox have been made by the federal government, Comox village commission chairman Jack Noel said today.

Mr. Noel said he was informed yesterday by Defence Minister Claxton that Sons of Freedom sentenced for nude parading and arson in the Kootenay and boundary districts will be jailed in naval barracks and R.C.A.F. huts.

Fifty-two Doukhobors, many of them women, were sentenced yesterday at Grand Forks and Nelson to three years in prison for nudism. Other are due to stand trial on arson charges.

Mr. Noel said government officials had o erridden local protests in making the move. Organizations are sending protests to Ottawa.

Another home—the 32nd to be burned since mid-April—was destroyed yesterday at Krestova, Slocan valley headquarters of the Sons of Freedom.

Dakota Floods Getting Worse As Rain Falls

ST. Paul, Minn. (UP) — New rains soaked Minnesota and the Dakotas today, increasing flood dangers on the Mississippi, Red and James rivers and along their tributaries.

The Aitkin, Minn., area along the Upper Mississippi was fighting its worst flood in 50 years, and the U.S. weather burea predicted extensive flooding in South Dakota for the first time this year.

One-half inch of rain fell at Fargo, N.D., in the hard-hit Red River valley, and more than an inch soaked Redwood Falls, Minn.

Showers were expected to continue through tomorrow.

Weather forecasters predicted extensive flooding of James River lowlands between Mitchell and Huron, S.D., next week.

The river already was four to five feet above flood stage at some points. Lowland dwellers were warned to carry movable property to higher ground.

Gov. Luther Youngdahl of Minnesota appealed to President Truman to grant emergency aid to the Aitkin area and to sections of St. Louis County, where smaller streams had caused heavy damage.

The Mississippi at Aitkin had risen above 19 feet—seven feet above flood stage—and the rain was expected to send it higher.

The Red dropped at Moorhead, Minn., and Fargo and Grand Forks, and an army engineer said the fresh rains kept the situation "critical."

'FLAT-RATE' PENSIONS

Welfare Council Wants $40 Per Month For All

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Welfare Council urged today that pensions of at least $40 a month be paid to all persons 70 years and over and to those between 65 and 70 who are "prematurely aged."

In a brief submitted to the parliamentary committee on old-age security the council said it was not prepared to commend a contributary pension plan which would provide benefits only to those who could afford to contribute.

The council said it felt the federal government should pay a "flat-rate" pension to the aged.

"This rate should be based upon a careful study of the cost of food, shelter, clothing, etcetera; it should be set at a figure which makes supplementation in additional amounts of money necessary only for a small proportion of the persons in the highest cost of living areas," the brief said.

"Pending such a study, and in the assurance that the amount will not err on the side of generosity, the immediate rate should be set at least at the present figure, $40 a month.

"Arrangements should be made for a review of the amount of the pension every three or five years."

The council said it could be assumed that few persons 70 and over are physically or mentally capable of regular employment. Therefore the pensions should be given to all members of this group, whether working or not.

West Vancouver Asks Extension Of P.G.E. Dropped

WEST VANCOUVER (CP)—A brief from the council and citizens committee today accused the provincial government of "erroneously evaluating" the economic factors involved in extending the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Squamish to Vancouver.

The brief, submitted to the provincial government, suggested the construction of a highway from the railhead of the P.G.E. 42 miles northwest, was of greater importance.

A railway through West Vancouver, the brief said, would have "most lamentable and devastating effects upon the whole (residential) area."

Transportation of coal, forest products and grain, the three chief products it has been proposed the P.G.E. would carry southward, would not be "justified economically" and would increase the P.G.E. debt to "approximately $200,000,000."

Pays Fine Of $2,000 For Evasion Of Taxes

OTTAWA (CP)—Albert Dore, Ottawa ice-dealer, today was fined $2,200 and costs on eight charges of violating the Income Tax Act.

Dore pleaded guilty to the charges which involved non-payment of some $20,000 in income taxes during the years 1941 to 1948 inclusive.
